Notes

Performance	Performance refers to sound recording authorship fixed by a human performer. The performance of a musical work consists of the particular vocal and/or instrumental recorded rendition of that work. The performance of a literary or theatrical work consists of the recorded reading or narration.
Production	Production usually refers to the studio engineering, editing, mixing, mastering, processing, etc., to produce the finished recording.
Lyrics	Lyrics refers to the words of a song or other musical composition.
Music	Music refers to the melody, rhythm and harmony of a musical composition. It is important to note the difference between music (that is, the musical lines in a musical composition) and a sound recording (that is, the actual sounds of the musical work fixed in recorded form, for example, on a CD or digitally in an mp3 file).
