Jazz take first steps to keep team intact

Carr signs 1-year contract, Anderson a 2-year deal.

By Richard Evans
Denver Post Staff Writer

With the Thursday re-signings of Antoine Carr and Shaquon Anderson, the Utah Jazz took the first steps toward keeping their NBA franchise together.

Antoine Carr

decide more than the fact that they had been able to give him a $1.5 million raise.

Shaquon Anderson

more than 18 teams expressed interest. The highest bidder was Houston, Minnesota and Atlanta.

Anderson got a two-year deal, at about $2.5 million total. Apparently there was considerable interest in Anderson around the league. Anderson's agent, Lance Lauck, said the Lakers called him at three minutes after midnight on July 1. The first day free agents could be signed, and eventually several of those teams had $1 million to offer Anderson, while others talked about making trades to free up room under the cap.

Lauck said his client always wanted to return to Utah, but he also wanted to be treated right. "As long as the Utah Jazz were going to be fair, he wasn't even going to think about going anywhere else," Lauck said. Lauck also noted that a call he received from Jazz coach Jerry Sloan — during which the coach praised Anderson — was an influential factor. "I never had a coach talk so highly about a player in my 15 years as an agent," Lauck said.

BYU VS. UTAH

State Bragging Rights

State bragging rights and an outright claim to the Beehive Boot are on the line today as intrastate rivals BYU and Utah line up for an epic battle in Cougar Stadium.

BYU, 6-4 on the season (4-3 WAC), can win the Beehive Boot outright—an annual symbol of football supremacy between BYU, Utah and Utah State—with a victory against the Utes (5-5, 4-3 WAC). A Utah win, and all three teams tie for the Beehive Boot.

Although BYU and Utah are both out of contention for the WAC Mountain Division title, the Cougars are hoping to earn an invitation to an at-large bowl with a win. With a victory, BYU could be invited to play in either the Las Vegas Bowl versus an at-large team, or the Humanitarian Bowl in Boise, Idaho against Big West Champion Utah State.

BYU-UTAH: WHEN DID IT BEGIN?

According to BYU history, the BYU-Utah rivalry began in 1922 with a 49-13 Ute victory. Utah history books, on the other hand, claim the first meeting was a 12-4 Ute win against BY Academy on April 6, 1896.

The reason for the disparity? The Cougars do not count their six games against Utah between 1896 and 1898 as official games because they were not yet a university. With that in mind, Cougar Illustrated takes a look at 72 years, beginning in 1922, of BYU versus Utah football.

THE UTAH YEARS

With the exception of the war years from 1943-45, BYU and Utah have squared off on the gridiron every year since 1922, making today's contest the 73rd meeting between the two teams.

The BYU-Utah series was not always played with the same luster it currently enjoys as BYU only managed three ties in the first 20 meetings.

In 1942, with Floyd Millet at the helm, BYU finally broke the drought with a 12-7 victory in Salt Lake City. The celebration of success against the Utes was short lived, however, as it would take another 13 seasons before BYU would gain its second victory in 1958—also in Salt Lake City.

The rivalry finally started to become competitive in 1965. That season was a year of firsts as BYU gained its first ever home victory against Utah with a 25-20 win in Provo, and the Tommy Hudspeth led Cougars earned the school's first-ever WAC championship.

From 1965-67, BYU gained three victories versus the Utes, followed by four straight Utah wins from 1968-71. All seven contests, however,

THE BYU YEARS

Entering the 1972 season, Utah owned a 38-5-4 advantage in games played against BYU. That season, however, was the start of a new era for the Cougars—and the beginning of 16 years of domination over their intrastate rivals.

After spending 10 seasons as an assistant coach on the BYU coaching staff, LaVell Edwards took over the Cougar football program in January 1972.

Since that season, Edwards has led his troops to a 20-5 record against the Utes. Included in the BYU domination is winning streaks of six (1972-77), nine (1979-87) and four (1989-92) games.

In the 25 games played since 1972, BYU has outscored Utah to the tune of 17 points per game (37.5 to 20.5), shut out the Utes once (27-0 in 1979) and scored at least 16 points in every game played—BYU's lowest output was a 16-7 victory in 1972.

10 YEARS OF EQUALITY?

With a win today, Utah would even the series at five games a piece over the past 10 seasons. Beginning in 1988 with a 57-28 Utah win in Scott Mitchell's senior season, through last season's 37-17 BYU victory in Salt Lake City, the Cougars have left the field as victors five times, while the Utes have claimed bragging rights four times.

The past nine meetings have been filled with memorable moments, exciting finishes and winning streaks by both teams.

Beginning with a 70-31 victory in 1989, BYU reeled off four straight wins to issue the rivalry into the '90s. The Cougars' 70 points is the most ever scored by one team in the history of the storied rivalry.

That game saw BYU score touchdowns on each of their first seven possessions, and all eight drives with Detmer as quarterback—Sean Covey replaced Detmer late in the second quarter, but Detmer engineered BYU's opening drive of the second half before giving way to Covey permanently. On the day, Detmer completed 18 of 22 passes for 358 yards and four touchdowns, further solidifying his claim to the Heisman Trophy that season.

The 1990 season brought with it a new era for Utah football. Late in December, 1989, Ron McBride was named as Jim Fassel's successor to revamp the Ute football program. McBride's first two attempts at gaining bragging rights over his new intrastate rivals, ended in blowout losses. His third game, however, was a competitive hard-fought defeat 22-31.

In 1993, McBride and the Utes finally broke the BYU stronghold as Chris Yergensen booted a 55-yard field goal with 25 seconds remaining to give Utah a 34-31 victory at Cougar Stadium. The win was Utah's first in Provo since 1971.

The 1993 victory also marked the first of the infamous two-game 34-31 streak. The Utes would follow their 1993 victory with a win in 1994 by the same score.

In 1995, Utah came to Provo and left Cougar Stadium with a 37-17 blowout win that prevented BYU from claiming the WAC title that season.

Last season saw BYU win at Utah in a most unconventional manner. The Cougars attempted only 12 passes while rushing for 376 yards on 63 attempts to claim the WAC's first ever Mountain Division title with 37-17 victory.

FROM TAKEDOWNS TO TOUCHDOWNS

Eric Bateman

by Jerry Gowen

Eric Bateman decided to start playing football his senior year in high school — not because he was a die-hard fan — but because he was dared to play by a fellow classmate and friend. Bateman had actually never seen a college or professional football game on television that summer before his senior year in high school. He had no idea the dare he took would create a new passion in his life and lead him to start as right offensive tackle for the BYU Cougars.

"I was never really into football and I never watched any games in high school, college or anything like that because I was really into wrestling," Bateman said.

He became active in football his senior year in high school when a friend came up to him and asked him to go out for the team.

"My friend was on the football team and had never wrestled and we needed someone of his weight class for wrestling," says Bateman. "So I said I would come out for football if he would come out for wrestling."

In his first high school game, he tackled his own quarterback. "I had a lot of raw energy," Bateman said.

Bateman said his high school career as a wrestler helped make his football experience that much more memorable. He wrestled three years and said his most memorable experience was gaining 50 pounds between his sophomore and junior year. He received All-State and All-CIF awards after playing only one year of football in high school and also received All-CIF honors in wrestling.

The son of Tom and Sonia Bateman, Eric is the youngest of four boys. He graduated from Camarillo High School in California in 1992 with a 4.0 G.P.A. his senior year and chose to come to BYU because BYU was honest and open with him.

Bateman was never really interested in coming to BYU [for football], until he came to BYU for a wrestling camp his freshman year of high school.

"Mohammed Elewonibi, who was the Outland Trophy winner here his senior year, was my dorm father for wrestling camp. He was instrumental in helping me come to the Y. When I thought about football I thought about him."

"The BYU football staff was straight up with me," he said. "I was recruited by UCLA, Notre Dame, USC and UW, but I decided BYU was the place to go. I enjoyed football so much and decided I'm going to do this."

Bateman attributes much of his success as a Cougar to Assistant Coach Roger French. "If I get a chance to play professionally, it will be largely due to French's efforts. When I came to BYU, I was seventeen years old. Coach French served many purposes to me. First of all, he's the father of the offensive line. He has literally taken me from an embryo stage and developed me into the person that I am as a football player today," he says.

"He's not only been a coach, but he's been a friend. He's been like a father to me. What I've become in football and a lot of what I've become other than that is directly related to him. I'm indebted to him forever. He's the kind of guy that you love to hate. He makes you work harder than you've ever worked in your life, yet he gets more results than anyone I've ever seen; that's why he's had 40 lineman in the last 15 years go to the pros."

In his first year of eligibility at BYU in 1992, Bateman backed up Eli Herring at the offensive tackle position.

"I still remember running out on the field in front of 65,000 shouting fans that first game. There's an old guy standing there, staring you in the face and cheering for you and he doesn't know you from Ty Detmer, but you're making people happy; that was so exhilarating," he says.

He then took two years off to go on a mission and served for two years in the Cleveland Ohio Mission.

While serving his mission, Bateman decided to write a book for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints that would provide all available printed information from L.D.S. prophets in a multi-volume reference book.

"I was sitting in an Elder's Quorum meeting listening to the members debate tithing and decided people need to have all available information from the prophets in one accessible place," Bateman said. "I decided to seek approval from the First Presidency to compile a book that would contain every talk ever given by a General Authority."

Approval was given and Bateman is currently negotiating a contract with Deseret Book. The final product will be a multi-volume set that contains every talk ever given to the church as a whole by the last fourteen prophets of the church to the church as a whole. It will be designed for church members and non-church members, letting readers know everything that has been addressed.

Bateman returned to BYU in 1995. He participated in spring drills and saw playing time on special teams kickoff return in the fourth quarter against Hawaii. He then started the next year as a lineman.

"I think football for me was and still is a process. I'm definitely not at the level I'd like to be. My first year here was fun," Bateman remarks. "The first year I was a kid and wet behind the ears. I loved to hit and loved to fight and get into brawls. I loved being part of a team. After I got off my mission I tried to get in and learn the plays a little better."

During the 1996-97 Utah game, Bateman injured his leg and wondered for several months if he would ever play football again. He attributes his recovery to his wife Allyson.

"I give most of the credit to my wife for helping me through that period of time. You have a major injury like that and you kind of sit back and ask is it worth it. Is the game of football worth it? I think that question was nourished and answered by my wife and I didn't really feel like I had any other choices. You can put your tail between your legs and run or you can become somebody," he said.

Coming into this season there were some fears about Bateman's ankle. His ankle was again injured this year and he has torn some ligaments in his thumbs and fingers. Bateman says the bottom line is being tough. "The team relies on me and we rely on each other," he says.

"I think you've got to get in there and make something happen. This year has been a challenge for everyone as a team to try to pull together and have what we had last year. The true measure of a man in the sense of what I believe is what he does when he's faced with some adversity and some challenges."

Bateman is also currently a full-fledged Utah County Deputy and goes out on patrol every other week. He said the bottom line is to help keep Utah County a safe place.

Although Bateman hopes to someday play in the NFL, there are other reasons he plays football. "More than anything, I love to hit. There's nothing more exhilarating than coming down on someone and knocking them down. The game of football that I really love, other than the enthusiasm that I really feel, there's nothing like the exhilaration of hitting someone."

"I think out of all the successes that I've been fortunate to have, none of them tops being married in the temple to my wife Allyson. What's made all this possible has been God. I have always known there was somebody much greater than me controlling the ship; that has made the biggest difference for me in my life," he said. "That doesn't mean that I have ever or will ever be perfect. I'm as human as anyone can ever get. I've got faults just like anybody else but I've never ever forgotten what's made it all possible and that has been God."

Bateman knows it's surprising that he has progressed this far without a background of experience.

"I only played football one year and ended up at a major university. I went from an idea three years ago to signing a major published book deal. I went with a dream as a little kid and a desire to be a cop and went through the academy and succeeded," Bateman said. "All of those things are directly related to an absolute knowledge that there is someone else much greater out there than myself." ■

BYU FOOTBALL

This is Brigham Young University

FROM ITS MODEST BEGINNINGS IN 1875, to its current 631-acre campus located at the western base of the Wasatch Mountains, Brigham Young University has earned an admirable reputation for successfully blending scholarly learning with moral and spiritual education over the past 122 years.

Originally established as the Brigham Young Academy on Oct. 16, 1875, BYU began with an enrollment of 29 elementary school students. Sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the academy officially became Brigham Young University on Oct. 23, 1903 and is now a fully accredited, internationally recognized university. With an enrollment of 28,300 full-time students, BYU is now the nation's largest private university.

Academic excellence is increasingly evident as 78 percent of the 1,460 faculty members hold doctoral degrees and the university is accredited by more than 100 educational, business, professional and government organizations.

Admission standards for students continue to rise as competition for acceptance increases. The average ACT composite score for entering BYU freshmen in 1997 is 27, and the grade point average for new students is 3.7. BYU is ranked 11th in the nation for the number of National Merit Scholars in attendance.

Currently, BYU offers bachelor's degrees in 166 academic programs, master's degrees in 71 and doctorates in 33. Courses are available from 60 departments in 11 colleges, two areas of general undergraduate education, two professional schools and graduate studies.

The J. Reuben Clark Law School is establishing a reputation as one of the elite top-40 law schools in the nation, with three of its graduates already selected as clerks to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Other highly respected programs include the Marriott School of Management, with its third-ranked accountancy department and top-rated MBA program, BYU's computer-aided design/computer-aided manufacturing program and BYU's engineering programs.

The music and drama departments are also particularly noteworthy, as are its language programs, with their unusually extensive course offerings, and a large number of faculty researching family issues.

The campus is clean and well-kept with beautiful landscaping and spacious quads. The Lee Library, with more than two million volumes and a seating capacity of 4,000, is at the heart of the campus.

The Harris Fine Arts Center features five theaters, two art galleries, nine pipe organs, 65 music practice rooms, a National Public Radio station and a Public Broadcast Service television studio. Laboratories all over campus boast up-to-date equipment and full computerization. A new Museum of Art was recently completed.

Academic accomplishments and physical facilities aside, many BYU students and faculty point to the character of its people and their commitment to traditional values as the school's most important attributes. Each student signs a Code of Honor, promising to abstain from alcohol, tobacco, tea and coffee and to be honest and chaste—all in accord with tenets of the LDS Church.

Although 98 percent of the student body is LDS, over 25 other denominations are represented at BYU. And admission is open to those of any race, color, creed or national origin, provided they meet the university's academic requirements and their conduct conforms to the standards of the LDS Church.

Nearly 22 percent of the student body is married, and the 28,300 students represent every state in the United States (32 percent from Utah) and more than 100 countries. More than 8,000 students are bilingual, many having learned a foreign language while serving a mission for the LDS Church.

When Brigham Young Academy was established in 1875, Brigham Young, then second president of the LDS Church, charged that all secular learning at the institution should be fused with teachings from the Scriptures.

BYU is now a world-renowned center of learning that remains true to that original charge from its namesake.

BYU is located 45 miles south of Salt Lake City in Provo, Utah, a city of 98,000 in a valley of 303,000, and is situated 4,560 feet above sea level. The Utah Valley offers a beautiful setting, with 11,750-foot Mount Timpanogos north of the campus and 23-mile-long Utah Lake on the west. ■

Time Out for Business

MERRILL LYNCH PRESENTS "THE BUSINESS OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL"

BIGGER IS BETTER

MORE SEATS, MORE SUITES, MORE REVENUE — EVERYONE IS GETTING INTO THE ACT.

The number had to make folks at Tennessee and Michigan, numbers 1 and 1a in the annual college football attendance competition and the only schools with stadiums that hold more than 100,000, a little queasy. The University of Texas was going to expand the capacity at Royal-Memorial Stadium from 75,512 to a mighty 115,000. It looked as if the NCAA Division I-A stadium expansion frenzy had just received a Texas-sized jolt — or seemed to.

"The number we're talking about is 81,818," says Chris Plonsky, UT's assistant athletic director for external services. "That's how much expansion has been approved by our board of regents and has been fully funded. The 115,000 figure is merely a footprint coinciding with our 10-20-year, long-range plan."

Texas is embarking on an ambitious stadium expansion program that will put an upper deck on Royal-Memorial's west stands, introduce 66 luxury suites, convert 1,200 existing seats into tony club boxes and add 1,600 new seats down front by lowering the field and eliminating the track that circles it. Total cost: about $51 million — all of it from private gifts and future suite revenues.

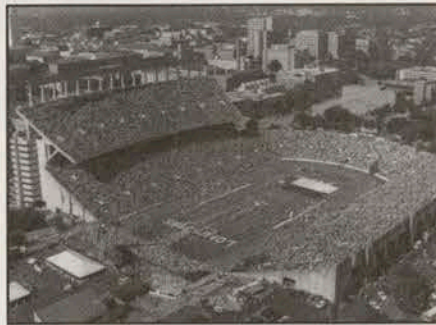

The Longhorns aren't alone. Texas A&M is spending $33 million to bulk up Kyle Field's capacity to 80,000 and add to their total of 48 luxury boxes. Notre Dame, which has played for years in front of only 59,075 people in its stadium — hardly an accurate representation of the school's national following — increased its volume to 80,000 for this season.

There's more. North Carolina has added 8,000 seats to Kenan Stadium as part of an overhaul of its football facilities, bringing capacity to 60,000. East Carolina enters Conference USA this season with Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium's size swelled to 43,000, from 35,000. And Louisville is swinging for the fences by constructing a 50,000-seat on-campus stadium that should be ready for the 1999 season and will allow UL to move its home games from Cardinal Stadium, which sits downtown and is better suited for Class AAA baseball.

Everybody has the same goal. They want to expand revenues and make their product more appealing to patrons. At Texas, the expansion represents the first work done on the stadium since 1969 and is designed to help Longhorn football compete more effectively for fans' entertainment dollars.

"Any time people go to a Cowboys game or a Spurs game and see the luxury boxes, and the Jumbotron scoreboards and the branded concessions, that makes an impression," Plonsky says. "We're competing with that."

This fall, 14 suites will debut on the stadium's east side, along with improvements to concession areas and rest rooms. By 1998, the west side grandstand and club seating section will be completed, along with the remaining 52 luxury boxes. Plonsky estimates the average cost of a suite to be $50,000/year, generating $3.3 million each season. At least $2.6 million of that will be dedicated to annual payments on a 20-year bond. Money from ticket surcharges will also be used to retire the debt. Any remaining cash will go toward meeting the athletic department's $27 million/year operating budget.

Plonsky anticipates Texas will have little trouble filling the suites. This should allow younger alumni to break through the logjam of established Longhorn donors and improve their seating, possibly in the club boxes. A domino effect should ensue. As the people move up the ladder of ticket prestige, those who are sitting in the end zone seats will move to better locations between the goal lines. The new upper deck will provide even more good seating.

"For games that aren't considered big, we often give as many as 15,000 tickets in the north end zone to a local grocery store to sell for five dollars," Plonsky says. "That means we're down to only 60,000 good seats. The upper deck will allow us to sell 5,800 better seats to the public at full price."

As for the move to 115,000, Texas isn't saying if that will happen. But it isn't saying it won't happen, either.

THE PRICE OF SUCCESS

Thanks to a wealth of private gifts and future suite revenues, the University of Texas has about $51 million to spend on expanding and improving Royal-Memorial Stadium. What does that sum buy these days?

- An upper deck on the stadium's west stands
- 66 luxury suites
- Conversion of 1,200 existing seats into club boxes
- 1,600 new seats closer to the field

PRESIDENT

Merrill J. Bateman

PRESIDENT MERRILL J. BATEMAN, the 11th president of Brigham Young University, officially began his duties on Jan. 1, 1996.

Bateman, currently a member of the First Quorum of the Seventy for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, succeeded President Rex E. Lee, who served as president for six years before his death in March 1996 after a long bout with cancer.

At his inauguration, President Gordon B. Hinckley described President Bateman as "a man of large capacity and solid faith. His academic credentials are spotless. His experience in the real world...has been remarkable. His service [in the Church] has been constant and wonderful."

Prior to assuming the presidency of BYU, President Bateman was the Presiding Bishop of the LDS Church.

Bateman brings a strong background of administrative and academic experience to his new position. Before receiving his call to be a General Authority, Bateman headed his own consulting and capital management companies. He was dean of the College of Business and the School of Management at BYU from 1975 to 1979. Before joining the BYU faculty, he was an executive with Mars, Inc., in England and the United States (1971-1975).

Born in Lehi, Utah and raised in neighboring American Fork, Bateman earned a bachelor's degree in economics at the University of Utah and went on to receive his doctorate in economics from MIT. He was inducted into the Phi Beta Kappa Honor Society in 1960 at the University of Utah. He was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, 1960-61, and a Danforth Fellow, 1960-64.

Early in his career, President Bateman was an assistant professor of economics at the U.S. Air Force Academy (1964-67) and later an associate professor of economics at BYU (1967-71). He was also a lecturer in economics at the University of Ghana in 1963.

President Bateman has served the Church as a missionary, bishop, stake high councilor, stake president and regional representative. He also helped lay the foundation for the establishment of the Church in Ghana and Nigeria.

He is married to Marilyn Scholes Bateman and they are the parents of seven children—four boys and three girls. They also have 20 grandchildren. ■

Rulebook Headaches YOU BE THE REF!

The rare play, quirky bounce or bizarre situation can give college football referees instant headaches, especially since they are expected to make immediate decisions during the heat of battle. Under the gun, could you make the right call? Touchdown Illustrated gives you the whistle. Below are rulebook headaches designed to test your knowledge of the game. YOU BE THE REF!

Headache #1

Iowa vs. Michigan. Iowa's Tim Dwight attempts to field a difficult punt, but instead he muffs it. The ball bounces off his shoulder pads and into the air, although it does not hit the ground. Meanwhile, Michigan's Charles Woodson, covering the punt, sees the ball bounce off Dwight, jumps up and catches it and then lands out of bounds at the Iowa 25-yard line.

You're the ref: Whose ball is it and where is it spotted?

Answer:

Iowa receives possession, a first down and 10, at its own 25-yard line. According to Rule 2, Section 2, Article 7-c, "To catch, intercept or recover a ball, a player who leaves his feet to make a catch, interception or recovery must have the ball in his possession when he first returns to the ground in bounds..."

Headache #2

Maryland vs. Florida State. It is fourth and goal on Maryland's 4-yard line with :03 left in the game and the Terrapins leading 24-20. Florida State center Kevin Long snaps the ball to quarterback Thad Busby, who muffs it. Seminole fullback Pooh Williams then proceeds to pick up the loose ball and run it into the end zone.

You're the ref: Does the touchdown count?

Answer:

The touchdown counts. Rule 2, Section 2g, Article 1-c notes that since Long's snap becomes a backward pass, there exists no restriction on an offensive player recovering and advancing the ball.

Headache #4

California vs. Washington. On a key third-down-and-four play at the 50-yard line, California defensive tackle Brandon Whiting charges across the neutral zone before the snap and hits Washington center Olin Kreutz. Huskies guard Benji Olson then hits Whiting in retaliation, resulting in a personal foul for unnecessary roughness.

You're the ref: What penalties should be enforced? Where should the ball be spotted?

Answer:

Cal is penalized five yards for Whiting's being offside, then Washington is assessed a 15-yard penalty for Olson's personal foul. Washington gets the ball, first down and 10, from its own 40. Rule 5, Section 2, Article 7 reads, "The penalty for any dead-ball foul incurred after the ready for play shall be enforced after the line to gain is established."

Headache #3

Tennessee vs. Florida. Tennessee quarterback Peyton Manning fires a 68-yard bomb to receiver Peerless Price, who is situated one yard into the end zone. Price jumps up and catches the ball, but before he can land he is hit from behind by Florida cornerback Fred Weary. As a result, Price comes down with the ball on the Florida 1-yard line. After he regains his balance, he attempts to run and is tackled back at the 5-yard line.

You're the ref: Is it a touchdown? If not, where is the ball spotted?

Answer:

It is not a touchdown. It is Tennessee's ball at the Florida 5-yard line, the spot where the play was whistled dead. Rule 5, Section 1, Article 3-a states, "The most forward part of the ball when declared dead between the end lines shall be the determining point in measuring distance gained or lost by either team during any down..."

ADVANCEMENT VICE PRESIDENT

Dr. R.J. Snow

DR. R.J. SNOW, who is responsible for intercollegiate athletics, enters his fourth year as Advancement Vice President for Brigham Young University after a four-year term as Student Life Vice President.

Dr. Snow came to BYU in 1990 from Johannesburg, South Africa, where he was the mission president for three years. Before his mission call, Dr. Snow was president and director of The Jacobsen Company from 1984 to 1987. He previously had been Vice President of University Relations and Student Affairs at the University of Utah for more than a decade.

He also served as Director of the Hinckley Institute of Politics and as a member of the political science faculty during his tenure at Utah.

A native of St. George, Dr. Snow moved to Washington, D.C. at age 13 and attended junior high and high school there, returning to Utah to attend Dixie College, receiving an A.S. degree in 1957.

He served a mission in France and then enrolled at Utah, where he earned both his bachelor (1962) and master of arts (1964) degrees in history.

Dr. Snow continued his graduate education at Northwestern, where he completed master of arts (1965) and doctoral degrees (1967) in political science. He also completed post-doctoral work at Oregon and Harvard.

In 1967, Dr. Snow moved to Santa Barbara, Calif., where he was on the political science faculty at UCSB until 1973. During his tenure, he directed the University of California's Education Abroad Program for two years at the University of Bordeaux and the University of Pau in southwest France.

Dr. Snow has been very active in civic and community service, having been on the committee for Executive Reorganization of the State of Utah, as a board member of the Utah Symphony, LDS Hospital and on task forces for the homeless and mentally ill.

His service with more than 25 other civic and charitable organizations includes board membership of the Salt Lake and Provo United Way, Provo-Orem Chamber of Commerce and board chairman for the Utah affiliate of the American Diabetes Association. He was recently appointed to the Deseret News Board of Directors.

He married Marilyn Melville and they are the parents of four children and have two grandchildren.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Rondo Fehlberg

In just two years as athletic director, RONDO FEHLBERG has brought new energy and vision to BYU athletics.

Prior to his appointment in 1995, the former BYU All-America wrestler spent 16 years as an attorney and executive in the oil business. Most recently, he was vice president of International New Ventures at Pennzoil with responsibilities for development and maintenance of long-term business relationships in the international business community, especially the former Soviet Union.

A native of Worland, Wyo., Fehlberg received a B.A. degree from BYU in 1976. He served an LDS mission in Germany (1974-75) before attending BYU's J. Reuben Clark Law School, where he received a Juris Doctor degree in 1979.

While attending law school, he assisted in coaching the wrestling team. He was a three-time WAC champion and had a career record of 74-11-1, including 34 pins.

Fehlberg is a true competitor. He compiled a 23-2 record as a senior at 150 pounds and placed fifth at the 1972 NCAA Championships. His gutsy performance earned him All-America status and helped him win BYU's Competitor Award. In 1987, he was inducted into the BYU Athletic Hall of Fame.

Three other brothers—Wayne, Reed and Paul—also wrestled for the Cougars. Reed is a 1994 inductee into BYU's Athletic Hall of Fame.

In 1979, Fehlberg joined the law firm of Davis, Graham & Stubbs in Denver. In 1982 he went to work for Standard Oil of Ohio in Denver and later in Houston. Following Standard Oil's 1987 merger with British Petroleum, he moved to London for three years as part of the new management team.

Fehlberg married Mary Bloxham of Pinedale, Wyo., and they have five sons and a daughter.

Fehlberg was instrumental in bringing the Pigskin Classic to Provo in the fall of 1996. He has also provided a big boost to the recruiting efforts at BYU.

LaVell Edwards

Since LAVELL EDWARDS took over the BYU football program in 1972, the Cougars have won 228 games, captured 18 WAC championships (including 10 in a row from 1976 to 1985) and played in 20 bowl games (17 in a row). Edwards has coached more years, won more games and has a better winning percentage than any coach in Cougar football history.

Seven times in his 25 years as head coach (1972, '79, '80, '83, '84, '90 and '96), the 65-year-old Edwards has been selected WAC Coach of the Year, and five times he has been named Kodak District

Eight Coach of the Year (1974, '77, '79, '80 and '84). In addition to the many coaching honors, Edwards has coached the East-West Shrine game four times, the Hula Bowl three times, the Blue-Gray Classic twice, the Japan Bowl twice and the Coaches' All-America Game.

Edwards won the Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year in 1979 and picked up NCAA Coach of the Year honors from the American Football Coaches, the Football Writers and the Pigskin Club of Washington, D.C., after guiding the Cougars to a national championship in 1984.

In 1988, he completed a one-year term as president of the 5,700-member American Football Coaches Association (AFCA).

Edwards received the Dale Rex Memorial Award in 1974 as the Utahn who has contributed the most to amateur athletics in the state and he has also been Utah's Sportsman of the Year. In 1993, Edwards was named to Utah State's All-Century Team and was named Utah's Coach of the Century at the Utah Centennial sports ceremonies last year.

Such accolades are justly deserved for one of the great minds in the coaching profession who also is a husband, father, grandfather, church leader, author, teacher and doctor of education.

His 228 victories ranks fourth among the nation's active college coaches. Under Edwards, BYU averaged over 10 wins a season in the 1980s. In 1986, he passed Frank Kush as the all-time leader in WAC coaching victories.

Edwards was born in Provo, Utah. He was an all-state football player at Lincoln High in nearby Orem, Utah in 1946 and 1947. Edward's football ambitions took him to Utah State where he was a three-year letterman and captain of the team as a center and linebacker. He earned all-league honors as a center in 1950 and 1951.

At USU he met his wife-to-be, Patti Covey from Big Piney, Wyo. LaVell entered the Army, where he played on two service teams: Fort Lee, Va. in 1952, and Fort Mead, Md. in 1953 as a player-coach with a 6-3 record.

Edwards became head coach at Granite High in Salt Lake City where he coached from 1954 to 1961 before joining the BYU staff in 1962. Ten years later he was named Tommy Hudspeth's successor as head coach.

The football philosophy practiced by Edwards is one of high-powered offense and rugged defense. Under his guidance, BYU has led the nation in passing eight times (1976, '77, '79, '80, '81, '83, '84 and '85), in total offense five times (1979, '80, '83, '84 and '85) and in scoring (1979, '80, '81).

A 1952 graduate of Utah State, Edwards added to his academic honors a master's degree from the University of Utah in 1960 and an Ed.D. from BYU in 1978.

His wife, Patti, completed her degree in American Studies at BYU in 1994 and has written sports columns for the Provo Daily Herald. They have three married children: Ann E. Cannon (Salt Lake City), a writer; John (Bountiful, Utah), a doctor; and Jim (Henderson, Nev.), a lawyer. They have 12 grandchildren. ■

Assistant Coaches

ROBBIE BOSCO

Quarterbacks ■ Brigham Young, 1986 ■ 8th Season

Robbie Bosco is in his eighth year as a full-time assistant after being a graduate assistant during the 1989 season. The Roseville, Calif., native is best known for leading BYU to the national championship in 1984, when he guided the Cougars to a 13-0 record, led the nation in passing and was second in voting for the Davey O'Brien Award. In 1985, he finished second in the NCAA in total offense and was third in the Heisman Trophy balloting for the second straight year. He set 10 NCAA records and was a second team All-American.

Drafted by the Green Bay Packers, Bosco had his pro career cut short by an arm injury. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in communications and has a master's degree in physical education.

Bosco and his wife, Karen Holt, have five children. He has been inducted into the Kickoff Classic Hall of Fame, the Holiday Bowl Hall of Fame and the BYU Athletic Hall of Fame.

NORM CHOW

Assistant Head Coach, Offensive Coordinator, Quarterbacks, Receivers ■ University of Utah, 1968 ■ 20th Season

Norm Chow, the 1996 American Football Quarterly Division I Offensive Coordinator of the Year and the 1993 Athlon National Assistant Coach of the Year, has been an integral part of BYU's successful offense for the past 19 seasons. In addition to being the assistant head coach, he calls the plays and works with the quarterbacks and receivers.

Prior to joining the BYU coaching staff full time, he spent two years as a graduate assistant. Chow graduated from Punahou High (1964) in Honolulu, where he was "Athlete of the Year."

He attended the University of Utah (1968), where he achieved All-WAC (1967-68) and honorable mention All-America honors as an offensive guard.

After a career in the Canadian Football League was cut short due to a knee injury, he was head coach for three years at Hawai'i's Waialua High.

Chow received a master's degree in special education from Utah and a doctorate in educational psychology from BYU in 1979. He and his wife, Diane, have four children.

ROGER FRENCH

Offensive Line ■ University of Minnesota, 1958 ■ 17th Season

Roger French joined Edwards' staff in 1980 and has since helped produce numerous All-WAC and All-America offensive linemen, including 1989 Outland Trophy winner Moe Elewonibi. Before coming to BYU, French coached at Minnesota and Wisconsin for 14 years. His responsibilities at Minnesota included the offensive line and receivers.

Since French arrived at BYU, the Cougars have won the National Championship (1984) and set an NCAA total offense record of 584 yards per game (1983). Led by the likes of Jim McMahon, Steve Young, Ty Detmer and Steve Sarkisian, the Cougar offense has led the nation in passing eight times and in total offense three times.

Born in Minneapolis, French played linebacker, tight end and fullback at Minnesota where he graduated in 1958. He later obtained a master's degree and played with the Philadelphia Eagles and the Cleveland Browns. He began coaching at Memphis State, where he was defensive coordinator. In 1962, MSU finished second in the nation defensively. He has coached several All-America linemen in his career, and more than 35 have gone on to play pro football. French and his wife, Dody, have two daughters and six grandchildren.

BARRY LAMB

Safeties ■ University of Oregon, 1978 ■ 4th Season

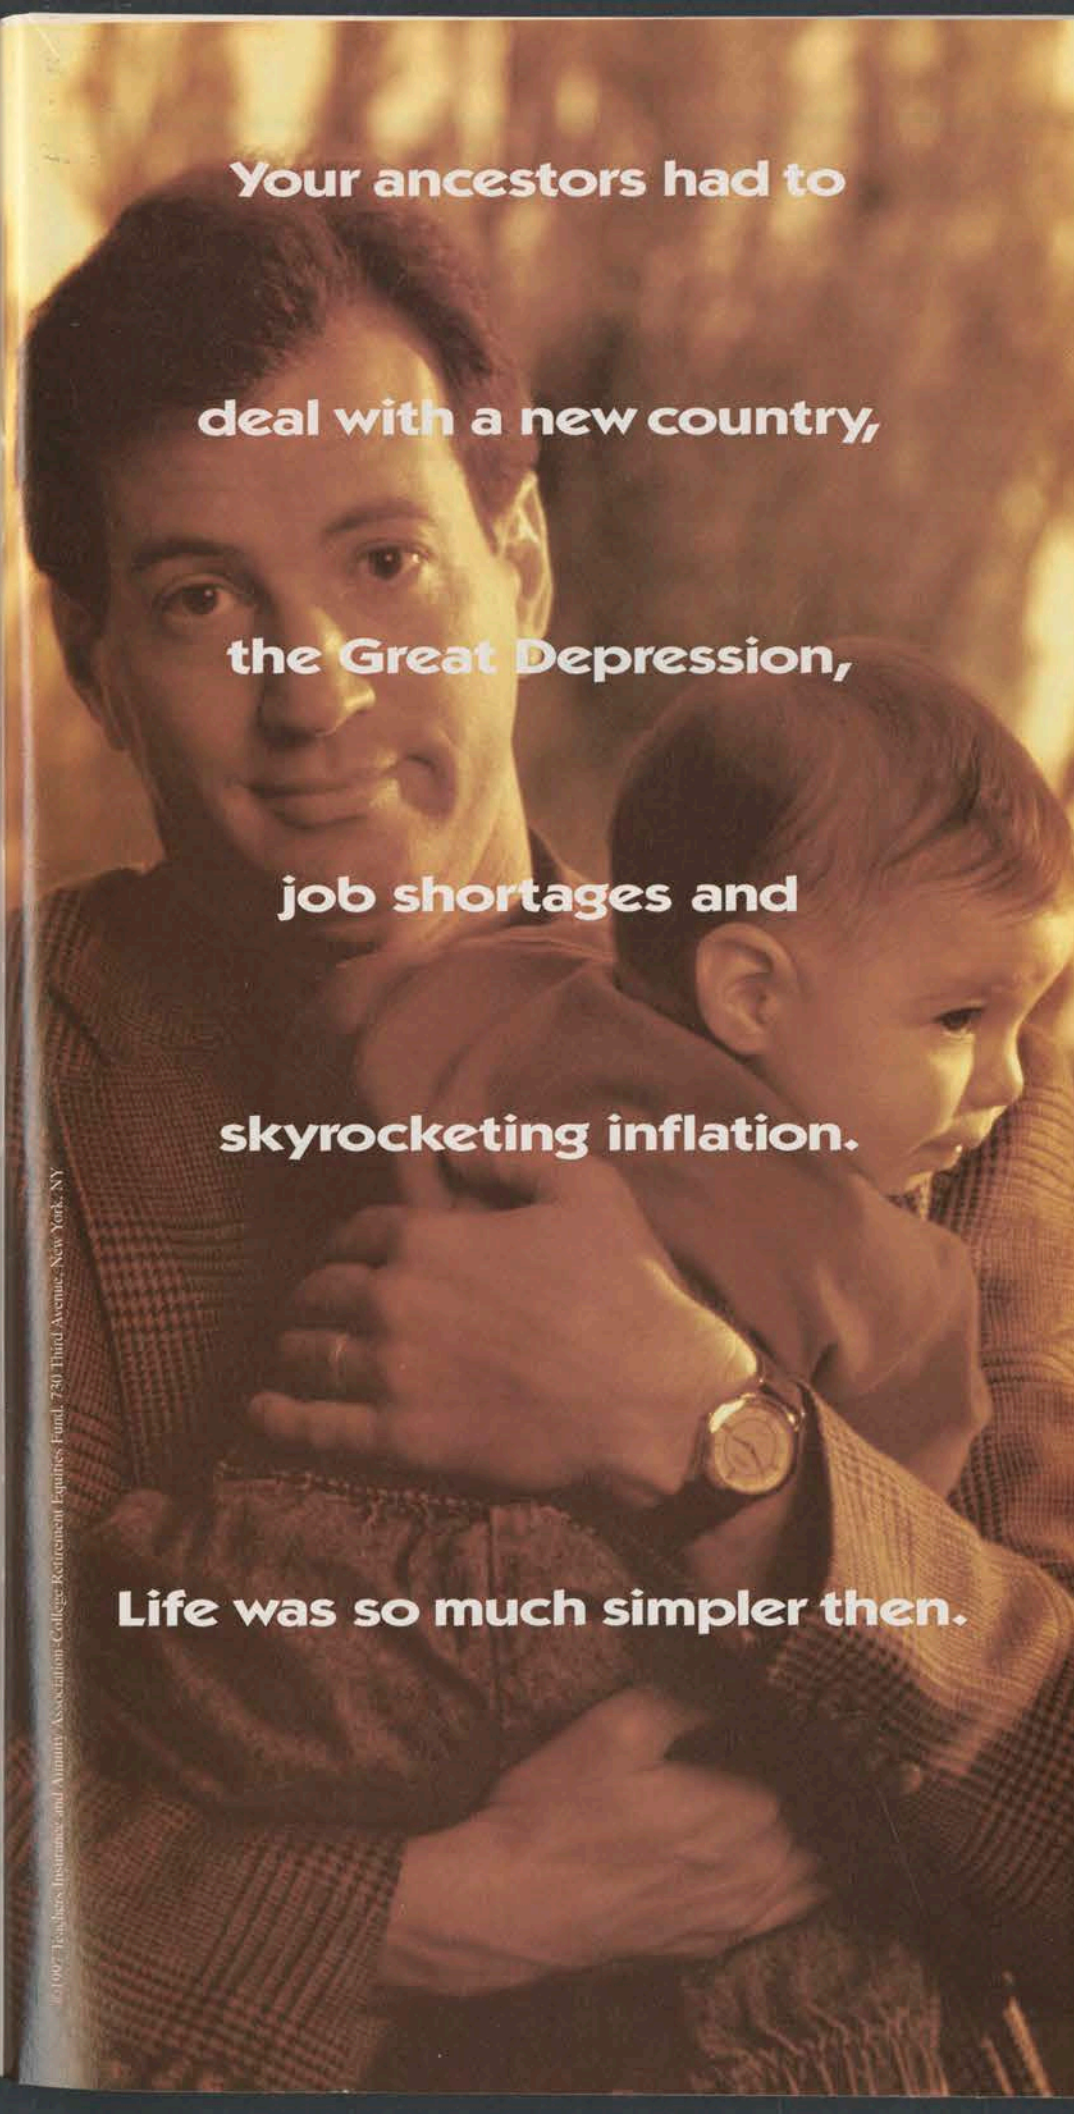

Barry Lamb joined the BYU staff in 1994 and currently works with the safeties and nickel/dime positions. He is in his 21st season of coaching and has coached all positions on defense plus the offensive line. Lamb has been a defensive coordinator twice and special teams coordinator once. He was the linebacker coach at San Diego State in 1993 after being defensive coordinator for the Aztecs from 1989 to 1992.

Lamb is a native of Santa Barbara, Calif., where he attended San Marcos High and Santa Barbara City College, earning junior college All-America and Academic All-America honors. He received his undergraduate degree at Oregon and master's in History at Arizona State, where he was elected Phi Kappa Phi. Lamb coached previously at Oregon, Arizona State, UNLV and Idaho before going to SDSU.

He married former BYU All-America volleyball player and Hall of Famer Karen Curtis. They have three sons.

BRIAN MITCHELL

Cornerbacks ■ Brigham Young, 1995 ■ 3rd Season

An All-WAC cornerback and All-America track performer for BYU, Brian Mitchell joined the coaching staff as the cornerbacks coach in 1995 after completing his degree in social work that spring.

The former Waco (Texas) High star was chosen first team All-WAC in 1989 by the writers and in 1990 by the coaches. He earned All-America honors in track in 1989 on BYU's 4x100 relay team. Mitchell, 28, had 13 pass interceptions in two and a half seasons as a starter for the Cougars and was picked in the seventh round of the 1991 NFL draft by the Atlanta Falcons. He played three seasons in Atlanta—where he was a teammate of Deion Sanders—and later with the Dallas Cowboys.

Mitchell serves as the faculty advisor to BYU's Black Student Union. He has also been involved in other community service projects including the StarLight Foundation in Atlanta, D.A.R.E., and the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program. He has also organized inner city football camps and a literacy program in Charlotte, N.C. Mitchell was born in Indianapolis and raised in Texas. He and his wife, Carri, have two daughters.

CHRIS PELLA

Recruiting Coordinator, Kickers, Tight Ends ■ Utah State, 1965 ■ 12th Season

Chris Pella joined the BYU staff in 1986 after spending 18 years as a coach at Utah State. He was the Aggies' head coach from 1983-85. A native of Brigham City, Utah, Pella attended Box Elder High and Dixie Junior College, where he was team captain and a junior college All-American. He went to Utah State as a fullback, offensive lineman and kicker, booting a school-record nine PATs against New Mexico State.

After graduating in 1965, Pella spent 15 years as an assistant under coaches Tony Knap, Chuck Mills, Phil Krueger and Bruce Snyder. He worked with every position on the team and was head wrestling coach for two years. Pella worked for the U.S. Navy in Yokosuka, Japan as the athletic director and football coach at the Navy base from 1969 to 1972. His 1971 team won the Interservice Championship and played in the Rice Bowl.

He returned to Utah State in the fall of 1972. In 1983 he was named head football coach. Pella and his wife, Rita, have three children and four grandchildren. He received a master's degree in coaching and administration from Utah State in 1997.

TOM RAMAGE

Defensive Line, Special Teams ■ Utah State, 1957 ■ 25th Season

Tom Ramage joined the BYU staff 24 years ago after coaching high school, junior college and Division I football. Since Ramage came to BYU, the Cougars have traditionally ranked among the leaders in the WAC in rushing defense.

He came to BYU from Dixie College in St. George, Utah, where he was head coach for two seasons (13-7 overall). He was born in Price, Utah, and enrolled at Utah State, winning All-Skyline and All-America honors as a tackle in 1956 and lettered in wrestling four years. He graduated in 1957.

He began his coaching career at Bear River, Utah, then returned to USU, where he was an assistant four years and obtained his M.S. degree (1962).

He left Logan in 1965 to serve as chief assistant and defensive coordinator at Weber State under Sark Arslanian. In 1971 he took the head job at Dixie College. Sandwiched into his stay at Weber, he served as a commissioned officer in the Army and was discharged as a captain in 1967. Ramage has coached two Outland Trophy winners: Merlin Olsen (Utah State) and Jason Buck (BYU).

Tom and his wife, Winona, have six children and 12 grandchildren.

LANCE REYNOLDS

Running Backs ■ Brigham Young, 1977 ■ 15th Season

For more than two decades, Lance Reynolds has played a key role in BYU's football successes as a player and as a coach. He joined the BYU staff in 1983 after coaching at Snow College and Ricks College.

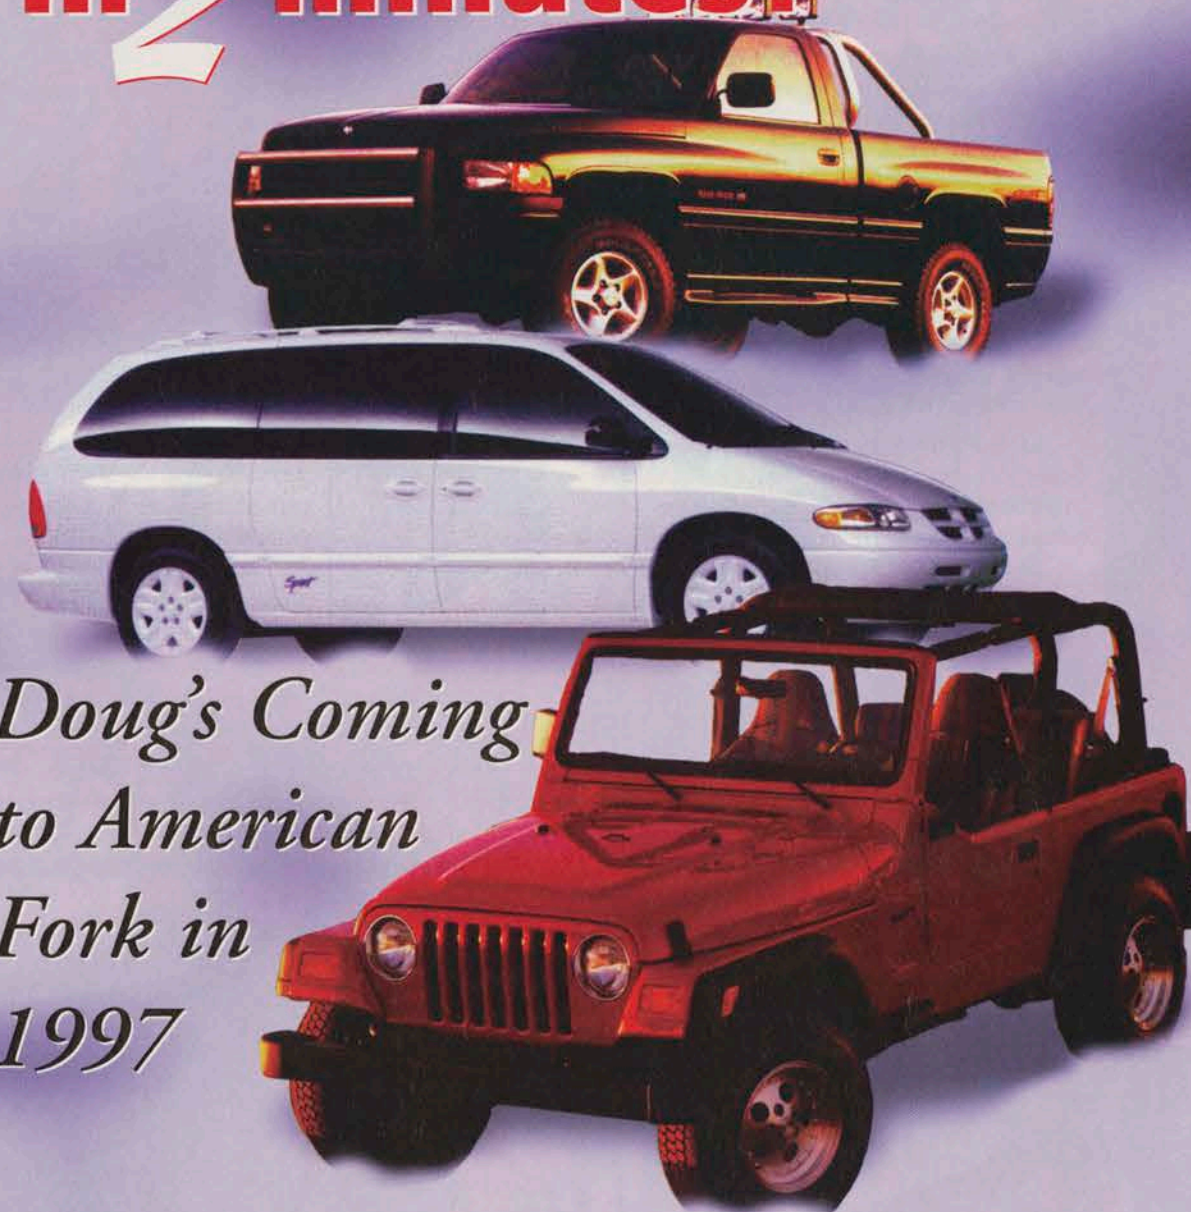

A Salt Lake native, Lance was all-state at Granite High. He played both offensive tackle and guard at BYU before serving an LDS mission to Seattle, Wash.

When he returned for his final two years, he earned All-WAC honors at offensive tackle and played in the East-West Shrine game and the Senior Bowl. After graduating in 1970, he played one season with both the Pittsburgh Steelers and Philadelphia Eagles. Lance and his wife, Leslie, have five children.

KEN SCHMIDT

Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers ■ University of Utah, 1964 ■ 16th Season

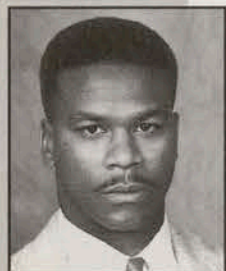

Ken Schmidt became defensive coordinator in 1992 after coaching at BYU since 1982. A native of Murray, Utah, Schmidt enrolled at Utah, where he was a center and linebacker under Coach Ray Nagel. He graduated from Utah in 1964 and obtained an M.S. degree in 1969.

He began his coaching career as an assistant at Granger High (1964-68) and later became head coach at Skyline High, where his teams posted a 105-24-1 record and won five state championships between 1968-79. In 1980, he was named head coach at Ricks College (Rexburg, Idaho). The Vikings won the conference championship two years, posting a 17-3 record. Ricks beat Arizona Western in 1981 at the Valley of the Sun Bowl.

Ken married Yvonne Youngberg of Murray and they have five children and seven grandchildren.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS

MARC SHERMAN

Brigham Young, 1990 ■ 1st Season

Marc Sherman from Oxnard, Calif., played defensive back at BYU from 1984-85. As a senior Sherman was named honorable mention All-WAC. He will work with the defense.

He coached defensive backs at Ventura College after graduating from BYU. Later taught social science and was an assistant high school coach at Hueneme High School in Oxnard, Calif. He has a bachelor's in psychology from BYU and will be working on a master's in physical education.

He is married to Shaunna Webb.

DENNIS SIMMONS

Brigham Young, 1996 ■ 1st Season

Dennis Simmons, from Memphis, Tenn., begins his first season as a graduate assistant coach after lettering four years as a linebacker at BYU.

Simmons was selected as coaches' player of the game against Arizona State and Utah State in 1994.

He finished his collegiate career with 23 unassisted tackles, 49 assisted tackles and two sacks. A graduate of broadcast communications in December 1996, he is working on a master's in educational leadership.

BYU Concessions

The image is a vibrant collage of concession items. At the top, the 'BYU Concessions' logo is written in a large, stylized font. Below it, various food items are displayed: a large cup of popcorn, a pizza, a hot dog, a sandwich, a Coca-Cola cup, a box of M&M's candies, a box of Dots candies, and a box of Granny's Cookies. Logos for 'M&M's MARS', 'Coca-Cola', 'DON JULIO PRODUCTS', 'Oscar Mayer', and 'Pizza Hut' are scattered around the items. At the bottom, there are illustrations of football players in action.

championships than any other member. Included in these team titles are 10 consecutive WAC football championships from 1976 through 1985. BYU's baseball team has won 25 WAC division titles and was ranked as high as No. 1 in 1983.

Much of the success of these teams can be attributed to the top-notch facilities available to athletes on campus. Success begins with training and BYU has a state-of-the-art strength and conditioning center with nearly 10,000 feet of working space that ranks among the nation's best.

The football team plays in the beautiful 65,000-seat Cougar Stadium, which features a 23 x 31 foot video wall that shows instant replays during football games. In addition, a 17 x 25 animation board and sound system is located above the north stands.

Also, a $3.5 million expansion to the team's locker room and athletic training facilities in the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse was finished in March of 1996. The Smith Fieldhouse contains facilities for nearly every sport including a one-fifth-mile rubberized track surrounded by three basketball courts and an artificial turf practice area.

BYU's 23,000-seat Marriott Center is one of the largest on-campus basketball arenas in the country. The outdoor track facilities are rated among the nation's finest. The NCAA Championships were held there in 1982 and 1989. ■ established by the University's academic programs, BYU's Athletic Department has become known around the country for its successes in a wide variety of sports.

In 1991, USA Today ranked the BYU men's sports program 18th in the nation and the women's sports program ninth. This past season the Cougar athletic program finished 16th in the nation in the annual Sears Directors Cup sponsored by USA Today and the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

The University sponsors 20 NCAA-sanctioned varsity sports and possesses men's national championships in football (1984), outdoor track (1970) and golf (1981). Cougar basketball teams have won the NIT twice (1951, 1966) and have been ranked in the top 20 numerous times. Led by Danny Ainge, the basketball team reached the Elite Eight in the NCAA playoffs in 1981.

Since the inception of the Western Athletic Conference in July 1962, BYU has won more

1997 AT&T LONG DISTANCE AWARDS

AT&T salutes the best long distance players in college football

The editors of Touchdown Illustrated are proud to announce the winners of the 1996 AT&T Long Distance Awards.

Each week during the regular season, AT&T honors Division I-A student-athletes in six categories — longest run from scrimmage, longest pass completion, longest punt return, longest kickoff return, longest punt average and longest field goal. To honor each winner, AT&T makes a $400 donation to the NCAA Degree Completion Scholarship program, which grants scholarships to deserving student-athletes, helping them “go the distance” to obtain their college degrees.

At the conclusion of the season, AT&T presents Long Distance Awards to the six individual student-athletes who lead the nation in each of the categories listed on this page. AT&T honors these players with $6,000 of additional donations to the Degree Completion Scholarship program.

1997 marks the seventh year of the AT&T Long Distance Award program, which has contributed over $350,000 to the NCAA Degree Completion Fund.

“When LaVell and I attend performing arts at BYU, we never lose.” — Patti Edwards

Preview of the 1997-98 Winning Season

MUSIC

Jazz Showcase – SEPT. 16
The musical season gets off to a lively, exhilarating start with performances by Jazz Legacy, Synthesis, and the Jazz Ensemble.

Anonymous 4 – OCT. 11
Imagine medieval chants that transport you to shadowy monasteries filled with musical tradition. Four internationally acclaimed women singers combine music, literature, and history to present a concert that will open your mind and thrill your soul.

The Merry Widow – OCT. 24 - NOV. 1
Lavish costumes and the beautiful music of Franz Lehar combine in an intricate plot to save an impoverished country through love and politics.

Utah Symphony – NOV. 5
Under the direction of guest conductor Fabio Mechetti, the Utah Symphony presents the works of Mozart, Barber, Ravel, and Strauss with guest pianist Lee Luvisi.

Men's Chorus – NOV. 20
An annual crowd-pleaser that sells out early. Each program explodes with energy and life through spirituals, Disney tunes, and more.

Peking Opera – MAR. 3
A visual banquet of ornate beaddresses, colorful costumes, and stylized face painting combine with traditional Chinese opera to excite the senses and your imagination.

Season tickets are available now. Individual performance tickets are available by mail only, until box office sales start September 20th.

This is the University of Utah

The University of Utah boasts an academic reputation that is rivaled only by its breathtakingly gorgeous location.

Founded in 1850, the U. has established itself as an international center for medical and engineering research. It manages one of the three most successful technology parks in the U.S., with more than 50 new high-tech companies created by University faculty. The recently established Huntsman Cancer Center and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute combine to make Utah the primary research company in the nation for understanding the genetic basis of cancer.

The University, which offers more than 120 undergraduate degree programs and 92 graduate programs, draws its 26,000-plus student population from all 50 states and 11 foreign countries.

The average ACT score for U. freshman is 24.1, compared to the national average (20.8).

Utah is also a hub in the computer world. The Center for High Performance Computing links the U. to major aerospace industries, high-tech manufacturers and research companies.

The University also fueled the growth of the "bionic valley," with the invention of the artificial heart, kidney, arm and ear and an implantable artificial pancreas.

The U. provides a lot of fun, too. Well over a million people enjoy the U.'s athletic, entertainment and cultural offerings each year.

HEAD COACH - RON MCBRIDE

In 28 years of coaching college football, which included stints at Cal State-Long Beach, UC-Riverside, Gavilan Junior College and San Jose State Ron McBride enters his eighth year as head coach of the University of Utah.

Without question, McBride's achievements cover a broader spectrum than any previous Ute football coach. Of Utah's six all-time bowl appearances, four have come under McBride.

With a 49-34 record, McBride is the only Ute coach to post six wins or more in six straight seasons. Thirty-six of his players have advanced to the professional ranks. He is the second winningest coach in Utah's 103-year football history.

A 1964 San Jose State graduate, McBride earned a bachelor's degree in secondary education. He and his wife Vicky are parents of four children: Danny (37), Mike (35), Jill (32) and Kelly (29).

Don't Worry.

Everything Looks Much Better In The Morning.

For years, you have viewed your world through the pages of The Daily Herald. The Daily Herald not only has a new design, but comes with our promise that you'll be better informed, entertained and challenged each day. Our main objective is to report on what is important in your life and the life of the community in which you live.

You'll be informed through our new 80-page TV magazine, the most complete TV listings of any newspaper in the state, as well as an expanded TV grid every Monday through Saturday. Top that off with two full pages of comics every Monday through Friday, a detailed weekly community calendar every Sunday and a steady stream of great suggestions on how families can have fun together without spending a fortune, and you've got a great entertainment value.

You'll be informed with more complete coverage on the communities which make up our valley thanks to two full-time county reporters and a team of correspondents. For those who commute we have a detailed map showing where road construction might create problems for your trip to work and how you can navigate through it. If the weather is a concern we have a colorful new weather package complete with five-day forecasts, an almanac, expanded international data and much more.

You'll be entertained by the humor of award-winning columnist Robert Kirby Monday through Friday. In addition, you will gain weekly insights from syndicated supercolumnists Ellen Goodman, Mona Charen, David Broder and Pulitzer prize-winning cartoonist Walt Handelsman.

Sports fan? We'll continue to feature columns from award-winning sports writer Dick Harmon and Sports Editor Steve Cameron, as well as a dozen of the nation's top sports columnists who will be featured on a rotating basis. With expanded BYU, University of Utah and Jazz coverage, you'll never be left wondering about the inside scoop on Utah sports. Check out our new Scoreboard page with the latest scores and prep schedules and you may find that sports in Utah Valley will never seem the same again.

Don't miss the new morning Daily Herald. Subscribe today!

Box 8207, Grand Rapids, MN 55745-8207. The names of the Sweepstakes winners will be made available upon written request as stated after 3/1/98. 7. SWDB, Sony, WGBH, their agents and employees are not responsible for prize merchandise of an independent supplier. By entering the Sweepstakes, you agree sponsors have no liability whatsoever for any injuries or damages of any kind which may result from acceptance, enjoyment, ownership, installation and/or use of the prize awarded or for any warranties, if any, which may exist with regard to the same. Acceptance of any prize releases SWDB, Sony, WGBH, their employees and agents from any and all liabilities relating to or in any way involving the prize awarded. By entering and accepting a prize, each winner consents to the use of his or her name or likeness by SWDB in any manner (except where prohibited by law) without additional compensation. 8. All winners are solely responsible for all taxes in connection with any prize awarded. 9. Acceptance of any prize hereby authorizes the use of the winning entrant's name, likeness and photograph without compensation and/or consent.

THE DAILY UNIVERSE

reaching the BYU population

WHO DO WE REACH?

- The BYU population includes nearly 34,000 students, faculty and staff.
- Everyday, 74% of BYU students, faculty and staff read the Daily Universe.
- Over a five-day publication period we reach an amazing 97% of the BYU population.

HOW DO WE DO IT?

- During the Fall/Winter Semesters, we publish five times per week, with a circulation of 18,500.
- During the Spring/Summer Terms, we publish three times per week and print 10,000 copies.

SO WHAT'S THE BOTTOM LINE?

- BYU students have approximately $230 a month of discretionary income.
- If you do the math, that equals almost $7 million every month of "throw-away" income.

If you want to know where BYU students get their information, you don't have to look far. The Daily Universe is the media vehicle to reach BYU. And with $7 million in discretionary income, the student market is no small potato. For further information about what we do and how we do it, feel free to contact us. And remember, if you want to reach the BYU population, the Daily Universe is your choice.

BYU FOOTBALL

THE WESTERN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

Meet the WAC

THE WESTERN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE begins its second year as the nation's largest NCAA Division I-A conference. With the addition of UNLV, Rice, San Jose State, SMU, TCU and Tulsa in 1996, the WAC expanded to 16 institutions.

The 16 football teams are divided into four quadrants, which are used to form two eight-team divisions, the Pacific and Mountain. In order to promote a full-conference concept, the quadrants rotate every other year in football.

year, several changes have occurred. UTEP and Colorado State became members in September 1967, while Arizona and Arizona State withdrew on June 30, 1978. Since that time, membership additions include San Diego State (July 1978), Hawai'i (July 1979), the United States Air Force Academy (July 1980) and Fresno State (July 1992).

Paul Brechler was the WAC commissioner from 1962 to 1968, Wiles Hallock from 1968 to 1971, Stan Bates from 1971 to 1980, Dr. Joe Kearney from 1980 to '94 and Karl Benson from 1994 to the present.

The first WAC championship was held in November 1962 with Arizona winning the men's cross country title. New Mexico followed with the first WAC football title, and Arizona finished second in the NCAA College World Series. Three years later, Arizona State claimed the league's first NCAA title when the Sun Devils won the College World Series trophy.

Presently, the WAC crowns team and individual champions in 21 sports—11 men's and 10 women's. For the men, there are championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, soccer, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field and wrestling. Championships for women are held in basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field and volleyball.

Before July 1, 1990, the WAC sponsored championships only in men's sports. However, a merger with the High Country Athletic Conference formed a single conference under one administrative structure, and the 1990-91 athletic year was the first in which both men and women competed under the WAC name. With the addition of Air Force and Hawai'i women's programs as well as the six new members in 1996, all of the institutions' men's and women's teams will compete in the WAC for the first time.

During the 1996-97 season BYU women's teams dominated the WAC, winning championships in soccer, volleyball, indoor track, outdoor track and cross country, while the men won titles in football and indoor track.

The WAC office has been located in the Denver area since the conference's inception with the exception of a two-year stay in Phoenix from 1964 to 1966. ■

Compared to many of the nation's Division I conferences, the WAC is still in its youth. Its history traces back to 1962, when the original six-team league was created.

In 1960 at the NCAA Convention in New York, Dick Clausen, athletic director at Arizona, and Pete McDavid, athletic director at New Mexico, organized a meeting that included representatives of Oregon State, Oregon, Washington State, Brigham Young, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and Arizona State. Dr. Edwin Kimball of BYU was elected the chairman of the group.

Over the next two years, while plans were formulated and membership structure was debated, three of the group members—Washington State, Oregon and Oregon State—decided to re-align with the other Pacific Coast institutions, and the remaining university representatives accepted Wyoming as the final charter member.

On July 27, 1962, the conference was officially organized by the Presidents' Council and the name WAC was adopted. Charter members were Arizona, Arizona State, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming.

Since beginning operation in the 1962-63 academic Bo Jackson; 8. d) Doug Flutie, 1984; 9. c) Herschel Walker (third in 1980, second in 1981 and winner in 1982); 10. True — he was fifth in 1956, behind winner Paul Hornung, Johnny Majors, Tommy McDonald and Jerry Tubbs.

SIMPLY GREAT HEISMAN MOMENTS

The long and storied history of the Heisman Trophy is filled with tales of great athletes overcoming great odds. For courage, character and sheer determination in the face of adversity, however, perhaps no story can match that of 1970 winner Jim Plunkett.

Plunkett's background could have come straight from a Horatio Alger story. His parents were poor and uneducated, and blind as well. His father supported his wife and three children by running a newspaper stand at a post office in San Jose, Calif. Jim delivered papers and worked as a gas station attendant and grocery clerk to supplement the family's meager income.

Throwing a football would be Jim's ticket out of poverty. He reached his full height of 6-foot-3 early on, and developed a throwing arm powerful and accurate enough to earn him a scholarship to Stanford. It took less than a year for another formidable obstacle to be thrown in his way, though, as a tumor was discovered on his thyroid gland. It proved to be benign, but the operation to remove it weakened him. He played three lackluster games at quarterback for Stanford as a freshman in 1966 — so lackluster that coach John Ralston thought Plunkett's 203-pound frame was better suited for defensive end. Plunkett resisted the move, and took a redshirt in 1967 to develop his quarterbacking skills.

He returned in 1968 and quickly established himself as Stanford's starter. He threw for 2,156 yards and 14 touchdowns that season, then came back with even bigger numbers in 1969, rolling up 2,673 yards and 20 touchdowns through the air.

Because of his redshirt season, Plunkett was eligible to enter the NFL Draft following the 1969 season. He was already a highly touted pro prospect and stood to cash in on a lucrative contract. But he opted to stay. Not only did he want to come back in 1970 for one more crack at the Pacific-8 Conference championship and a Rose Bowl berth, but, he said at the time, he also wanted to set an example for other minority students (Plunkett is Mexican-American) by staying in school and earning his degree.

By the time the 1970 season was over, Plunkett had accomplished all his goals. He completed 191 of 358 passes for 2,715 yards, and finished with 2,898 yards of total offense (breaking the Pac-8 record), including a 275-yard effort in Stanford's 24-14 win over Southern Cal and a 22-of-36, 268-yard, four-TD performance in a 29-22 win over Washington.

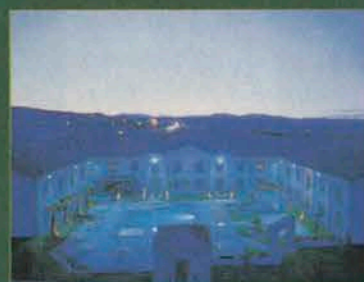

Plunkett had plenty of Heisman competition. The 1970 college football class was full of star quarterbacks who would go on to NFL: Notre Dame's Joe Theismann and Mississippi's Archie Manning were the prime competition, along with Lynn Dickey, Dan Pastorini and Ken Anderson. In the end, however, it was the humble and soft-spoken Plunkett who stepped up to the dais at New York's Downtown Athletic Club to accept the trophy.

Soon after, as if to prove his Heisman worthiness, Plunkett took the field for his final collegiate game — the 1971 Rose Bowl against unbeaten and top-ranked Ohio State — and completed 20-of-30 passes for 265 yards in Stanford's 27-17 shocker over the Buckeyes, capping a college career in which he tallied a then-NCAA-record 7,544 passing yards.

Chosen first overall in the 1971 NFL Draft by the New England, Plunkett's Cinderella story continued. After suffering numerous injuries and setbacks, his career rebounded with the Oakland/L.A. Raiders, whom he led to Super Bowl victories in 1980 and '83, winning MVP honors in Super Bowl XV. Plunkett played 17 seasons before retiring — yet another testament to the unyielding will of one of the great underdog Heisman winners in history.

WHEN THINGS ARE AT THEIR WORST, YOU'LL FIND AMERICANS AT THEIR BEST.

Heroes aren't born, they're made. Every day in the National Guard, Americans are going beyond the call — training as citizen-soldiers to be at their best when America needs them the most. Every National Guard mission starts at home where members are your friends, neighbors and co-workers. In your community, they respond to natural disasters and local emergencies. They even play a direct role in helping America's kids stay in school, out of trouble and drug-free.

But the Guard's work at home is only half the story. Since the days of the Colonial minutemen, the National Guard has worked to protect our nation. Today, that tradition continues with the National Guard as a full partner with America's active military forces.

Americans At Their Best.

To find out more, call the Army National Guard at 1-800-GO-GUARD or the Air National Guard at 1-800-TO-GO-ANG.

In today's efficient military, the citizen-soldiers and airmen of the National Guard are more important than ever. Just ask one of the Guard members currently in Bosnia, or those who served in Haiti and Desert Storm — chances are some of these members are right in your community. They are the most visible example of how Guard units are woven into our nation's military capability.

Those who volunteer for the National Guard are trained, equipped and tested to be their best. The biggest test, however, is nowhere near the training ground. It's in a world where danger and disaster are ever-present. A world where the men and women of the National Guard are putting their talents on the line every day.

Cougar Spirit

BYU FOOTBALL BEGAN on April 6, 1896—over 100 years ago. Today, spirited Cougar fans nationwide continue their strong support of the mighty blue and white. BYU consistently ranks nationally in the top 25 in football and basketball attendance and has one of the nation's premier booster organizations—The Cougar Club.

“Y” MOUNTAIN

The most visible symbol of BYU spirit is found high in the mountains east of Brigham Young University. The enormous block letter “Y” measures 465 feet high and is acclaimed as the largest sign in the country—larger than the letters spelling “HOLLYWOOD,” and any neon sign on Times Square.

The 32,847-square-foot structure dates back to 1906 when a drafting professor and several students made plans to put a large block BYU on the mountain. The student body formed an assembly line passing sand, rocks and lime up the side of the mountain for an entire day. The task became arduous and the idea of putting a “B” and “U” on either side of the “Y” was abandoned.

For decades the “Y” was whitewashed annually by students to show school spirit. In 1978, the face of the Y was coated with gunite—a mixture of sand and white cement—and painted with 155 gallons of paint which was transported by helicopter.

In 1924, BYU began lighting the “Y” during homecoming, graduation and other special events.

COSMO THE COUGAR

Another generator of BYU spirit is BYU's mascot, Cosmo the Cougar. Cosmo's story began on Oct. 1, 1923 when Coach Eugene L. Roberts used the cougar to describe his athletes. At that time, the cougar, a native Utah animal, was looked upon very favorably because of its powerful, agile and wise nature.

In 1925 a BYU alumnus contacted Coach Roberts informing him of a mother cougar and three kittens that had been captured. Two of these kittens were brought to Provo and kept as mascots. Soon problems resulted from keeping live cougars for mascots, so in 1953 pep chairman Dwayne Stevenson came up with a new version of the cougar mascot—Cosmo had arrived. The acrobatic and high-spirited animal has helped cheer the Cougars to victory ever since.

COUGAR MARCHING BAND

The Cougar Marching Band provides an enthusiastic musical and visual atmosphere to BYU football. The band, which performs at each home game and travels to games at Utah, Utah State and post-season games, begins practicing the week before school begins. The week-long band camp, commonly known as “sweat week,” consists of 14-hour rehearsals where the band members learn marching techniques, memorize music and practice for the pre-game and halftime shows. The band is directed by Dr. Don Peterson. ■

"How to get more BANG for your BUCKS by TARGETING your ads in the Journal!"

Advertising in Utah County just got a lot more cost effective! If you own a small business, you can now run BIGGER ads, for LESS money and go only to those homes most likely to shop at your business! That's right! By targeting your ads in one, two or three of the Utah County Journal's zoned editions, your ad size will go UP, while your advertising costs will go down!

Since most people today do most of their shopping from within a five mile radius of their home, it makes good sense for you to spend most of your advertising money where most of your potential customers live!

Imagine reaching 20,000 homes right around your store with full-page ads for as little as $320! Half-page ads for only $140 and quarter-page ads for only $70!

And since the Journal is the only newspaper in Utah that is audited for both Distribution as well as READERSHIP, you can rest assured that your ad will be well read! Over 98% of the homes in Utah County receive the Journal and over 85% read it! (VAC Audit Report, June 1996)

Stop wasting your money trying to pull customers that live too far from your store! Use the Journal's exclusive Zoned Ad Program and make a BIGGER BANG for fewer BUCKS!

BUILDING THE LEGACY

The Cougar Club

Over the past 34 years, the COUGAR CLUB'S fundraising efforts have helped BYU build one of America's strongest collegiate athletic programs. Currently, the donations and support of nearly 4,000 Cougar Club members nationwide contribute to the success of BYU's teams. The mission of the Cougar Club is to promote athletic excellence, sportsmanship and integrity among the student-athletes at Brigham Young University, both on and off the field of play.

"Many of the great things we have done, like the 1984 national football championship and last year's record-setting 14-1 season, have been made possible by the contributions of Cougar Club members," said athletic director Rondo Fehlberg.

A VITAL ROLE

The Cougar Club provides essential funding to both men's and women's athletics, in addition to sponsoring programs that build athletic loyalty among Cougar fans, BYU alumni and other friends of the University. Such programs include the BYU Athletic Hall of Fame, football and basketball previews, pregame activities before each home football game and monthly luncheons with coaches and players.

By funding all of BYU's athletic recruiting, the Cougar Club has helped attract some of the world's premier athletes to Brigham Young, while sending BYU coaches on local, national and international recruiting trips.

MEMBERSHIP LEVELS

There is a membership level in the Cougar Club for every fan who wants BYU athletics to continue to be successful. Individuals and businesses annually make tax-deductible Cougar Club contributions of between $50 and $5,000, based on their financial ability and on the athletics benefits they desire to receive.

To acknowledge the generosity of club members, the athletic department makes a number of athletic benefits available to club members, including exclusive seating, free reserved parking and the opportunity to purchase postseason tickets before the general public.

THE LEGACY PROGRAM

In addition to raising over a million dollars annually, the Cougar Club's recently-created Legacy Program promises to do even more to shape the future of athletics at BYU. Through the Legacy Program, club members structure their financial planning (appreciated securities, trusts, bequests, wills, life insurance and other options) to provide tax benefits to the donors and ensure the continued athletic success of Brigham Young University.

Club members who make a deferred gift of any amount through the Legacy Program are memorialized by having their names added to the beautiful Legacy Wall in the Cougar Stadium Cougar Room. Additional athletic benefits are also available through the Legacy Program for members who make present value Legacy gifts of $10,000 or more.

PEOPLE & PROGRAMS

The Cougar Club is committed to helping BYU athletes succeed in competition and in the classroom. The effectiveness of the club's efforts is reflected by the number of club members who are also close to the athletic program—coaches, former athletes and the parents of athletes who are currently competing for BYU.

The Cougar Club annually sponsors more than 30 events including the Pigskin Family Picnic, the "Meet the Football Team" Watermelon Bust, the men's basketball Varsity Preview, the Reception for Female Athletes and monthly luncheons for the club's Salt Lake City and Utah County chapters. Before each BYU home game, club members get a preview of the upcoming contest while eating a delicious buffet in the Cougar Stadium Cougar Room. The club's loyal supporters continue to help build an athletic legacy of success at BYU.

CONTACTING COUGAR CLUB

The Cougar Club Office is located in Room 164 of the BYU Alumni House. To contact the club call (800) 426-4298 or 378-2583. The Cougar Club staff includes Dale McCann (executive director), Gaylene Harward (office manager), Michael Middleton (assistant director) and Melissa Richards (secretary). ■

Cougar Stadium

WHEN BYU LAUNCHED ITS FOOTBALL PROGRAM at the turn of the century, pasture lands and city parks were used for football playing fields. Now, the 65,000-seat Cougar Stadium is home to BYU football, and since its expansion in 1982, ranks consistently among the nation's top 25 in attendance every year.

"It's tough to beat the cosmetics of Cougar Stadium, on the western base of the Wasatch Mountains and about 5,000 feet above sea level. It's as difficult to beat the view as it is to beat the home team."

—THE SPORTING NEWS

In 1996, BYU added a 23 x 31 foot video wall in the south end zone that shows live action and instant replays during football games. A new 17 x 25 animation board and sound system was also added to the north stands.

Fan support at home has enabled BYU to schedule home and away contests with the likes of Notre Dame, Penn State and UCLA. Since the expansion, the facility has been applauded by fans, players and the media as one of the finest football facilities in the country.

Among its many features are a box-bowl configuration, a grass playing surface deemed one of the best in the country and a four-level press box.

In 1982 and 1988, the Football Writers of America cited BYU for its "Outstanding Press Box Working Area."

The press box has been nicknamed the "Provo Marriott" by the media who cover BYU football. It runs the entire length of the west stands, rising more than 10 stories high. It also contains 42 loges, each of which seats up to 12 people, on the first two levels.

"Almost anyone that goes in for the first time will say that it is the finest press box they've ever seen," said BYU's electronic media director Jay Monsen.

"I've been to places like USC, Nebraska and Oregon and I haven't seen anything that compares," said promotions director Dave Champlin.

The third level is reserved for working media and the fourth level is for television coverage and game filming. Press box access is aided by three elevators ascending 144 feet (approximately 14 stories).

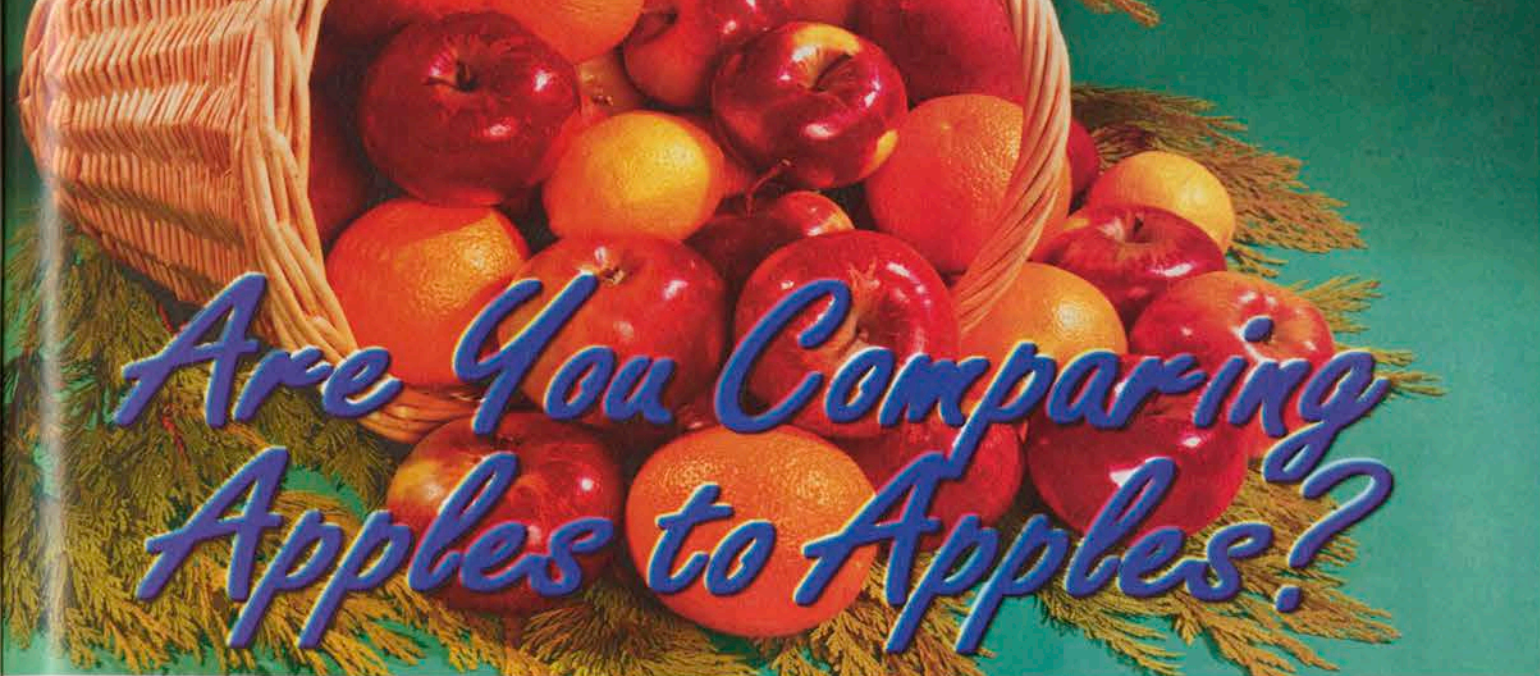

BYU's first stadium was a 10,000-seat hillside facility where the Richards Building now stands. A 30,000-seat stadium at the present location opened in 1964 but as many as 47,000 crammed into the stands and onto the grassy hill above the north end zone. Interest in BYU football grew more and more with each year and each WAC championship. In the year before its expansion, the 35,000-seat Cougar stadium averaged over 40,000 a game in attendance.

Cougar Stadium CONTINUED

The 1982 expansion included lowering the field eight feet, taking out the track (which hosted the 1967 and 1975 NCAA Track and Field Championships), adding end zone seating and box seats along the west stands. Over 15,000 yards of concrete were used in the expansion effort, which is enough to build a sidewalk from BYU to the University of Utah and then some.

Each end zone structure contains 4.3 million pounds of steel and seats 15,000 people. Concession and dining areas are on the ground level under the end zone seats.

Besides fall and spring football, the stadium is used for the July 4th Spectacular, "Stadium of Fire", part of America's Freedom Festival.

The stadium houses the Athletic Hall of Fame in the Cougar Club Room, which is used for pre- and post-game activities as well as for meetings and banquets during the year.

In addition to office areas, the stadium has a great deal of storage space, including one of North America's largest Jurassic dinosaur collections. ■

THE ULTIMATE TAILGATE EXPERIENCE

Bowl Lineup

Unfortunately, not every college football fan can attend the national championship game. Just like a well-planned tailgate party, however, there are plenty of excellent options for fans around the country to enjoy. Whether you find yourself in Jacksonville or Pontiac, Orlando or Honolulu, there will be a bowl game going on that, no doubt, presents a perfect opportunity for a tailgate party. So start making your holiday football plans now...and when determining your destination of choice, you might want to consider what types of food and drinks you and your friends enjoy most: pineapple or pork ribs, bratwurst or barbeque, hot chocolate or iced tea. You get the picture!

Without further ado, here is a complete listing of all 19 Division I-A bowl games, plus four lower-division championship games.

OF THE Trade

There's nothing like spending a Saturday afternoon outdoors in the crisp fall air, enjoying a college football game — it has become a pastime enjoyed by Americans of all ages. A popular enhancement to the tradition is the tailgate party.

To avoid the pitfalls of a less-than-perfect tailgate, we present the following list of essential items to keep your party rolling...

SETTING UP

- FOLDING TABLE: You'll need at least one.
- CHAIRS: A few folding chairs tucked into the trunk can be a welcome relief after a long game of touch football.
- COOLER: Beverages left in the sun warm up in a hurry. Tuck 'em away in a cooler and keep 'em cold.

- ICE: The cooler can't do it by itself.
- THE BARBECUE: Can't get anything done without this... and of course the charcoal, lighter fluid and matches.
- PLATES/UTENSILS: Probably the most commonly forgotten items. Even at football games, man has evolved beyond the stage of eating with his hands.
- NAPKINS/PAPER TOWELS: Absolutely indispensable.
- GARBAGE BAGS: The alternative to bringing these is dumping your refuse in your trunk, which only works for one tailgate or two before the neighboring tailgaters begin to complain.
- BOTTLE OPENERS: The key to the party. A legendary tailgater in Buffalo has one soldered to his rear bumper. Depending on your taste, a corkscrew may also be necessary.

THE EATS

- HORS D'OEUVRES: Fruit, chips 'n' dip, rolls, even cereal.
- APPETIZERS: Pasta salads and garden salads make for interesting starters, while corn on the cob and cold cuts are the traditional selections.
- MAIN COURSE: Steaks, burgers, ribs, chili and hot dogs are the usual favorites. Chicken and turkey are also on menus.
- CONDIMENTS: Ketchup, mustard, relish, mayonnaise and steak sauce are the standards.
- GARNISHINGS: Onions, pickles, lettuce and tomatoes.
- DESSERT: Ice cream is the favorite, though tough to manage unless you have an RV, in which case the refrigerator makes things easy. Otherwise, cookies, cake and fruit are the way to go.
- BEVERAGES: Soda, water and hot chocolate are the best choices.

THE EXTRAS

- EXTRA CLOTHES: It's almost always colder than you thought, and when it's not there's always somebody who wants to trade in his or her sweatshirt for a T-shirt.
- BINOCULARS: Not everybody has seats on the 50-yard line.
- THE TICKETS: Remember them?

- 3/4 teaspoon liquid hot pepper seasoning

1. Mix steak sauce, onion, garlic and hot pepper seasoning; set aside.
2. Use as a basting sauce on ribs during the last 15 minutes of cooking.

Flashbacks

How much do you remember about the first two days of 1997, when the college football bowls ruled supreme on the airwaves and in stadiums across the nation? Whether you spent those 48 hours continuing your New Year's Eve celebration by tailgating with friends in your living room or in Section Z, Parking Space 488 in Pasadena, Tempe, Miami or New Orleans, the game-related facts of the major bowls may be a bit blurry at this point. So here's an opportunity to refresh the old memory bank and impress everyone with your gridiron acumen as you're flipping burgers during pregame warmups. We'll focus on the thrills and spills that took place on the field at the Rose Bowl and the three Alliance bowls — the Fiesta, the Orange and the Sugar. You're on your own if you want to recount the other 63 bowls.

Rose Bowl Ohio State 20, Arizona State 17

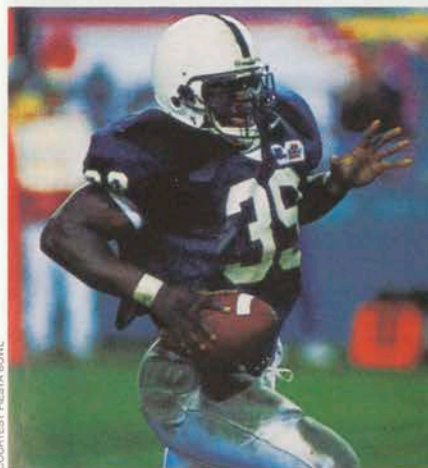

Unbeaten Arizona State, only 19 seconds away from a potential national championship, saw its title hopes dashed when Ohio State's Joe Germaine hit freshman David Boston with a 4-yard touchdown pass to give the Buckeyes a 20-17 victory in the "Granddaddy of Them All."

It was the first Rose Bowl victory for the Buckeyes (11-1) since 1974. The Sun Devils (11-1) missed out on their first undefeated season since 1975, and their loss allowed Florida to claim the national championship the following night by beating No. 1 Florida State in the Sugar Bowl.

ASU had taken a 17-13 lead with 1:40 left when quarterback Jake Plummer ran 11 yards for a touchdown. But Germaine guided the Buckeyes on a 12-play, 65-yard drive aided by two pass interference penalties against ASU.

Ohio State freshman David Boston pulls down the game-winning touchdown pass from Joe Germaine in the Rose Bowl. Boston's catch gave the Buckeyes a 20-17 win over Arizona State, spoiling the Sun Devils' national-championship bid.

Sugar Bowl Florida 52, Florida State 20

It was the national championship and sweet revenge all rolled up in one for Florida at the Sugar Bowl as the Gators exploded for 28 second-half points in a 52-20 rout of top-ranked arch-rival Florida State.

The Gators (12-1) were still smarting from their 24-21 loss to the Seminoles in the final game of the regular season — which cost them the No. 1 ranking — as well as from the previous season's 62-24 national championship debacle against Nebraska in the Fiesta Bowl.

This time around, they jumped all over FSU, led by Heisman Trophy winner Danny Wuerffel's 306 yards of passing. Florida's record-setting quarterback, who would receive most valuable player honors for his efforts, threw for three scores and ran for another.

Florida State (11-1), which fell behind 17-3 early on, closed to within 24-20 on the first drive of the second half, but could only watch helplessly as the Gators scored the final 28 points of the game.

Fiesta Bowl Penn State 38, Texas 15

Running back Curtis Enis recorded three touchdowns and Joe Paterno ran his New Year's Day record to 13-4 as Penn State rode a huge second half to a 38-15 Fiesta Bowl win over upstart Texas.

The Longhorns (8-5), who reached the Alliance bowl by virtue of their shocking upset of Nebraska in the Big 12 championship game, held a tenuous 12-7 halftime lead. But the Nittany Lions (11-2), who rolled up 330 yards of rushing, wore Texas down in the second half and put the game out of reach with a 21-point third quarter.

Freshman Kenny Watson got the ball rolling for Penn State by taking the second-half kickoff 81 yards, setting up Anton Harris' 5-yard touchdown run to give the Nittany Lions the lead for good.

James Brown, the Longhorns' junior quarterback, finished with 254 passing yards of in a losing effort.

Orange Bowl Nebraska 41, Virginia Tech 21

Nebraska, its national championship hopes dashed for the first time in three years, took out its frustrations on Big East champion Virginia Tech in the Orange Bowl.

Quarterback Scott Frost and Damon Benning ran for two touchdowns each and Jason Peter returned a fumble 31 yards for a score in the Cornhuskers' 41-21 rout of the Hokies. Tech (10-2) kept it as close as 24-21 in the third quarter, but Nebraska (11-2) slammed the door with 17 consecutive points to close out the game.

Nebraska played a near-perfect game, with no turnovers and just three penalties. The Huskers steamrolled Tech for 279 rushing yards, and allowed no return yards. Tech, led by Ken Oxendine's 150 yards, picked up 193 rushing yards of its own, and NFL-bound quarterback Jim Druckenmiller threw for 214 yards and three scores in the loss. ■

The Quarterback Factory

You can support BYU athletics and invest in BYU's rich quarterback tradition by purchasing a Limited Edition lithograph featuring BYU's seven All-American quarterbacks. These unique prints will be reproduced from a magnificent original oil painting by nationally renowned sports artist Chris Hopkins. Only 1,000 prints, presented in three separate series will be available to the public.

Prints 1 to 100 are part of the "Collector Series." They will be framed and autographed by all seven quarterbacks. In addition, as the artist signs each of these prints, he will add a special signature sketch, rendering each print a unique piece of art. Further, all those who purchase a Collector Series print will be invited to a special Quarterback Factory Banquet featuring the All-American quarterbacks at the conclusion of the NFL season. The Collectors Series prints are available for $10,000 each.

Prints 101 to 600 comprise the "Autograph Series." They will be framed, signed by the artist, and signed by the All-America quarterbacks. They are available for $1,000 each.

Finally, prints 601 to 1,000 will be inspected, numbered, and signed by the artist. They will be $250 per print.

All prints are accompanied by a Certificate of Authenticity signed by BYU Athletic Director Rondo Fehlberg and BYU Head Football Coach LaVell Edwards.

All proceeds from the Quarterback Factory Series will be used by BYU to fund athletic facilities.

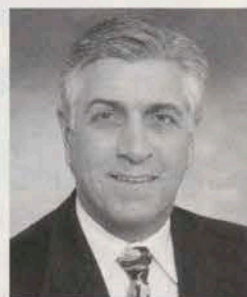

For information about purchasing a Quarterback Factory Limited Edition print, contact the Marriott Center Ticket Office at (801) 378-4910 or 1 800-322-BYU1.

IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE?

Dr. Kirt M. Kimball

Few people have the opportunity to combine their life's work with their life's passion — Dr. Kirt M. Kimball, M.D., Orthopedic Surgeon and Advisor for the BYU Athletic Department, is one of those.

Dr. Kimball, one of Utah's few active Fellows of the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine, has a special interest and expertise in sports medicine. He began his undergraduate career at BYU as a pre-medicine major and a swimmer on the Cougar swim team.

Following his freshman year, Dr. Kimball served an LDS mission to Southern Brazil. After his mission, Dr. Kimball returned to BYU and married his sweetheart Julie.

He completed his undergraduate training at the University of Southern California (USC) and then went on to study medicine at the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA).

Following a five-year residency in orthopedic surgery, he entered private practice in Santa Barbara, Calif., and became the team physician for the University of California at Santa Barbara.

His dedication to sports medicine grew over the years. He served as a consultant to the United States Ski Team from 1980 to 1990 and traveled all over the world with the downhill racing team.

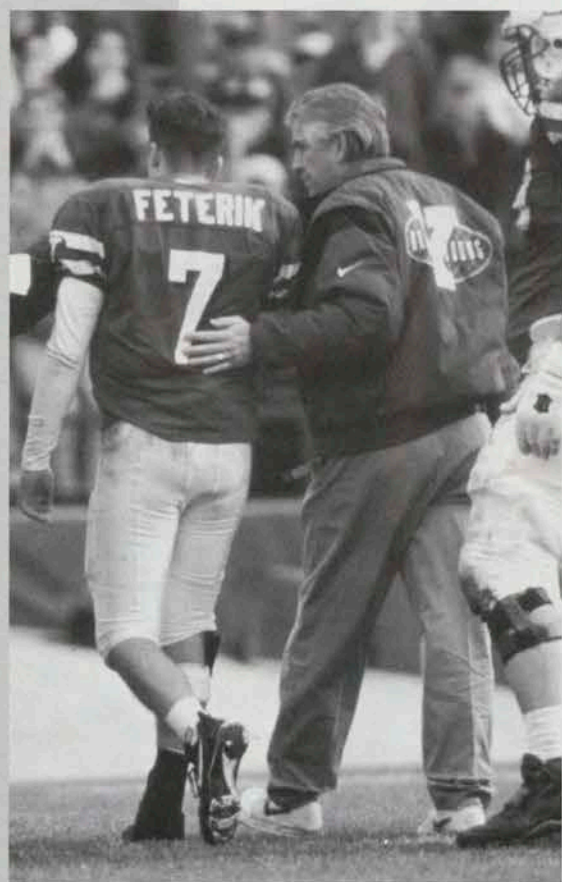

He served as a medical officer at the 1984 Summer Olympics Games in Los Angeles, Calif. He has also worked hard to provide quality sports medicine at the high school levels in the communities where he has lived.

Dr. Kimball has earned the respect of his colleagues by being board certified by the American Board of Orthopedic Surgeons and a Fellow of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

Despite his affiliation with a variety of different schools and athletic teams, he has always remained a loyal Cougar fan. While living in California, Dr. Kimball was a major supporter of the expansion of Cougar Stadium and for many years flew to Provo to catch BYU home games.

In the fall of 1995, at the peak of his career as the senior partner in a seven-man Santa Barbara orthopedic group, Dr. Kimball abruptly changed directions and moved his family and his practice to Provo to be near the passion of his life — the BYU Cougars.

Dr. Kimball and his wife Julie have 10 children.

JOIN LAVELL AND PATTY ON A TRIP TO GOLF'S BIRTHPLACE

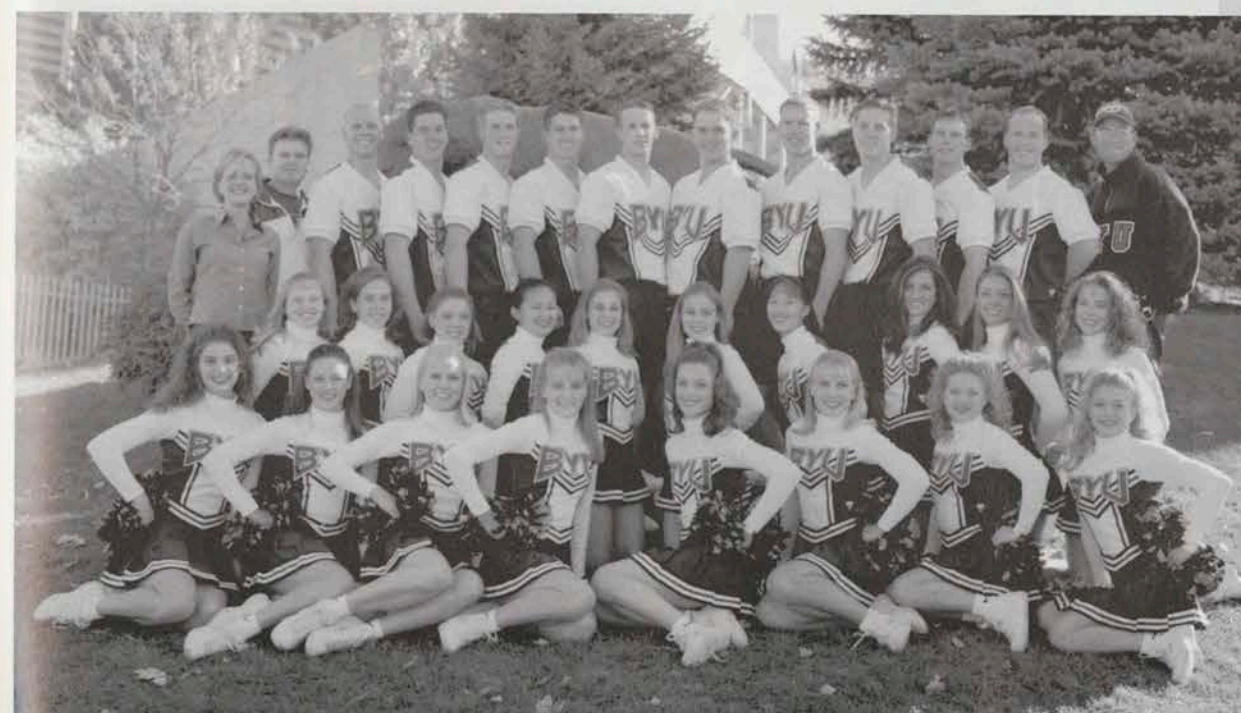

Do you enjoy BYU football?
Do you enjoy golf?
Would you like to play some of the most famous golf courses in the world with LaVell Edwards in your foursome?
Would you enjoy the sights and smells of Ireland and Scotland in the peak of summer?
If you answered yes to all four questions, then come join LaVell, Patti and several former Cougar greats next July on a VIP tour to golf's birthplace, Ireland and Scotland.

Sponsored by the BYU Varsity Club and the Athletic Department, this tour provides 10 days of golf at legendary layouts like the old course at St. Andrews, Royal Troone, Turnbury, Port Monarch, Royal County Down, and other incredible courses.

Those who don't golf will enjoy Ireland's world famous Waterford crystal works, Scotland's legendary woolen mills and the castle's and moors of the highland countryside. Every day will be filled with adventure and excitement as you explore this most unique corner of the British Isles.

For information about this one-in-a-lifetime tour, contact the BYU Travel Office at 378-5645.

This special student-athlete is awarded the Eagle Hardware & Garden Academic Salute Trophy for profound accomplishment in the community, the classroom, and in his or her sport.

1997-98 OUTLOOK: SHOOTIN' THE 3 AND PLAYIN' D

Cleve's Cougs

by Ralph Zobell

Strides, steps, and a race — it sounds like track or cross country, but what new BYU basketball coach Steve Cleveland is actually talking about is this year's Cougar cagers.

"This is a beginning and before we can run, we have to learn how to walk," says Cleveland who was hired last March as the BYU head basketball coach at BYU. "Because of our size and shooters I would have been happy with this team on the community college level."

Cleveland, 45, compiled a 157-77 (.671) record the past seven years at Fresno City College in Fresno, Calif. He replaces Roger Reid and Tony Ingle at the Cougar helm.

Fast breaks, pressure defense and up-tempo basketball have often been the hallmark of BYU in the 26-year-old Marriott Center. Bringing back that style of basketball, Cleveland hopes to recreate the excitement of past years.

This year the floor of the 22,700-seat arena has a new look with the three-point arcs painted Cougar Blue.

"I like to coach a 94-foot, up-tempo brand of basketball," says Cleveland. "To the extent we are capable, we will work towards that goal. They have responded in such a positive way and met all our expectations."

Before BYU's season officially begins at San Diego State on Nov. 14, when the Cougars christen the Aztec's new arena, there is a lot of work to be done.

"We've been restricted on-the-floor, so we've committed to off the floor activities," says Cleveland. "The majority of what I've done is in the community and with high school and junior college coaches. We have developed relationships throughout the country. I have a much better understanding of the process. I realize and recognize how important relationships are with people."

Those relationships will start to pay off in the form of more signees during the special November recruiting period. There is growing excitement about the BYU program, as manifest by the capacity crowd gathered for Midnight Madness, held in the Smith Fieldhouse.

There are 10 new BYU players on this season's squad, including a couple with Cleveland's juco connections. Among these are guards Brian Dignan, Danny Bower, and Brian Hamilton.

"Dignan, Bower, and Hamilton have made great strides and must continue if we want to be competitive in the WAC," says Cleveland. "My greatest insecurity is our lack of experience and quickness in certain perimeter spots. We will take it one step at a time."

Dignan, 6-3, is from Cuesta JC which faced Cleveland's squad in last season's California post-season tournament. Bower, 6-4, is a hot shooting guard who joins his teammate Jared Peterson, 6-6, from Ricks College. Hamilton, 6-0, transferred from Columbia Community College in Sacramento, Calif.

"We have young men who are capable of shooting the ball from the perimeter, but we need to beat people off the dribble and create opportunities to score."

The frontcourt is where BYU has a lot of depth, but little experience. Key in that position is Justin Weidauer, who hopes to have healed from season-ending foot surgery last February. The team's lone senior has been BYU's leading rebounder the past two seasons.

Joining Weidauer in the forward spot will be 6-9 freshman Mekeli Wesley from Provo.

"In four weeks, Mekeli will be able to contribute and be a factor," says Cleveland. "It is difficult for a freshman to be an impact player."

Wesley may have to play some at the pivot as centers Jarkko Ahlbom and Bret Jepsen rebound from injuries. Ahlbom, a 6-10 junior from Finland, had knee surgery last season after an injury in the opening game. Jepsen, a 6-11 sophomore who had returned from an LDS Church mission to Tennessee last spring, sprained his ankle in a pickup game hours before fall practice started and will be sidelined for several weeks.

"Bret had worked so diligently and he is committed to becoming a better offensive player," says

Cleveland. "It is a temporary setback."

Another candidate for post-play is Jepsen's younger brother, Bart, a 6-8 freshman.

"Our players need to learn how to play more than one position," says Cleveland. "We have quite a bit of depth at forward, but very little experience."

In the mix are 6-8 freshmen Chris Handy and Talmadge Eyre. Handy is one of two players on the squad following in his father's footsteps at BYU. The other is Sean Kelly, a 6-5 swingman who returns from a mission, but injured his ankle in the same incident with Bret Jepsen.

"This is a transition year and we are realistic to the challenges and look forward to making progress," says Cleveland.

"We are evaluating these players on their individual skills, but also as a team we want to and see where they have certain abilities.

"This is about opportunity to get better. We will see a lot more growth and progress over the next four months. Fans need to be patient and support us as we rebound. We have the ability with fan support to sneak up on somebody. Our goal is to qualify for the WAC tournament."

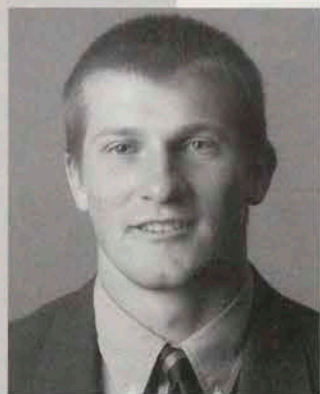

The Cougars missed the WAC tournament last year for the first time in the 13-year history of that event. This year's WAC Tournament is March 3-7 again at Las Vegas, Nev.

BYU's home season officially begins on Nov. 19 when the Cougars host the Cougars of Washington State. WSU will be followed in the Marriott Center by another Pac-10 team, Oregon, on Nov. 21. ■
