<Template for Digital Folklore Collection Item>

<date collected>

Genre: <Supernatural religious legend, non-religious supernatural legend, human condition legend, etiological legend, contemporary legend, personal narrative, folktale, joke, belief, speech, riddle, song, custom, game, or material culture> Title of item: <Titles should help researchers quickly identify the major topics presented in the manuscript.>

Internet Site Location Data: Name: <URL> Domain Name: Digital Folklore Type:<Meme, thread, photograph> Date and Time Created: <Length of Exchange: (Did the folklore occur over multiple days or hours. For example, if you are documenting a conversation between two people using gifs, did it occur over minutes, hours, or days?)> Date Accessed: <MM/DD/YY> Names of Contributors: <screen name> Other: <age, race, gender, occupation, or religion of the content creator, if known.>

Social Data: < Describe the purpose of the social media site, website, or app. Who is the target group? Does the site or app target a specific age group, gender, or religion? Where is the folklore typically being transmitted? Is it being transmitted on a single platform or is it across multiple platforms?>

Cultural Data: <Explain anything about the item that an outsider would need to know to understand the content. This includes technical terms, jargon, or any other insider lingo as well as references to shared knowledge not explained in the text. Is there underlying political, social, or culture references that need to be explained? Explain any values, beliefs, attitudes, local knowledge, and/or aesthetic criteria relevant to more fully appreciating the item.>

Item: <screen shot, copy and paste, or transcribe the item below. If your item was expressed in a language other than English, provide an English translation. Include a description of the item and the name of the file that you have uploaded to box or through the submission portal.>

 Submitted by: <Collector's name (this is you), age, gender>
                <semester and course number>
                <course professor's name>
Submitted on: <MM/DD/YY>