

Outline for Focused Field Project

- 1. Title page-center title of project on page; lower right hand corner put name, class, semester or term, year, teacher
- 2. Table of contents
- 3. Six to eight pages of analysis (Professor will provide more details)
- 4. Works cited page
- 5. Autobiography-briefly include basic facts about your life, but devote most of one page explaining your relationship to project, informants, why you are interested in the subject and your interest in folklore generally.
- 6. Items-twelve to fifteen items following the format you used in individual collections.
- 7. Release forms-include one for each informant. If the informant wishes to use a pseudonym, have him/her sign using the pseudonym. Don't forget to include a permission form for yourself allowing your material to be used for research. If an informant is under 18 years of age, please have a parent sign and note relationship. Make sure to list restrictions on project use if there are any. Please number all of the pages in your project.
- 8. Please paper clip your project together.
- 9. If you have questions, talk to your professor or call Kristi Young at the Folklore Archive, 422-6041. If you leave a message on voice mail, I will call you back. You may also contact me through email at kristi_young@byu.edu
